FIRE KILLS 7 STRIKEBREAKERS

TURK BATTLES GREEK HAND TO HAND 48 HOURS

Heavy Fight Rages in Asia Minor.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 3.—The Turkish offensive continues to develop on the line from Doumlibounar. The battle of Ouchak probably is one of the greatest of the present war. The conflict has continued unabated for forty-eight hours, with much hand to hand fighting.

For the first time tanks were employed when the Turks used seven of light type. The Turks also employed many batteries of French 75s. Their artillery fire was intense and accurate, and they evidently have received large ammunition stores recently.

Meanwhile, cavalry action is continuing in force east of Philadelphia. The Turkish light infantry is making desperate efforts to cut the only line of communication of the southern Greek army with Smyrna. The northern Greek army is occupied with concentrations west of Kutasir, and the southern army, still intact, is receiving reinforcements from Smyrna west of Ouchak.

Greek Fleet at Smyrna.

The British battleship King George V left Constantinople tonight under forced draft bound for Smyrna. The entire Greek fleet is being concentrated there together with nine transports, in preparation for eventualities.

The northern Greek army lost contact with the southern army somewhere southwest of Enkishar, according to reports reaching French circles. The capture of Ouchak is believed to be imminent, according to French reports. The Greeks succeeded in evacuating part of their stores there and have burned the rest.

Heavy fighting is reported north of Ouchak, in the direction of Gediz, where the Turks evidently are trying to break through Simav to cut communications between Simav and Kutaia. The Greeks succeeded in saving their 2d corps from an enveloping movement, but were forced to abandon their wheeled transport train. One hundred lorries were captured by the Turkish Nationalists.

4,000 Greeks Wounded.

Since yesterday the Turkish heavy attack, which was confined to the southern sector, has become general. Evidently the Turks are attempting to force the Greek army away from the railway into the mountains on the north, and this accounts for their great effort to break through the front from Gediz to Simav. The Greek position is critical. Four thousand wounded have arrived at Smyrna.

The Greek Report.

ATHENS, Sept. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The following official communication was issued today by the Greek war office:

"In conformity with orders, the withdrawal of the southern group is continuing with very little enemy pressure. The 3d corps also is withdrawing.

"The evacuation of Eski-Shehr, which was ordered several days ago, has been completed."

Claim Greek Army Is Destroyed.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Angora government mission in Paris today made public an official communique issued last Thursday in Angora saying that after five days' battle the Greek army had been completely defeated, and cut in two.

The northern group, the communication declared, was annihilated and left only scattered débris among the mountains and forests. The southern group was continuing to retreat.

An immense amount of material had been captured by the Turks. This had not yet been inventoried but it included 700 cannon.

BEATING THE CENSOR

PARIS, Sept. 3.—One evidence of censorship in Constantinople is indicated by the following fact: A number of dispatches from John Clayton, THE TRIBUNE'S chief correspondent in Constantinople, reached Paris via London. One "mystery" dispatch also was received at the Paris headquarters of the Chicago Tribune Foreign News service from THE TRIBUNE'S secret agent in Constantinople. It is apparent that the agent tried to report the military situation to the outer world through dispatches disguised as personal messages, or pertaining to financial transactions.

CHAPTER LII.

While the wires sizzled with telegraphic demands from impatient editors to get full interviews with Bacon, "world's richest bachelor," the corps of resourceful special correspondents launched a sweeping campaign to locate that young man. The neighboring towns and country roads were combed by search parties, who questioned every lonely household, but who had no picture to work from. People in Adamant then recalled that he had always refused to be photographed.

One correspondent flashed his office: "Bacon missing since yesterday. Foul play feared."

Adamant, stirred to its center by the sensational revelation of Bacon's identity, was now convulsed with the exciting rumors developed by his mysterious disappearance.

Muriel alone knew that he had been last seen by Mary Brook, and said so to her mother.

"Could he be there still?" asked Mrs. Lannard. "He might have wanted to add excitement and increase his publicity." She knitted her brows. "I think you'd better run up to see Mary. But don't let the reporters know. They mustn't under any circumstances interview Mary. Find out what she knows"—here a thought struck her—"and I think Mary had better leave Adamant. Ask her and her mother to return to New York with us. Tell Mary she owes it to her mother's health. Put it strong."

With these instructions Muriel departed on her mission. By a roundabout way she eluded the newspaper men and was relieved to find that her arrival at the Brook house was unobserved.

Mary greeted her coldly.

"I don't blame you for hating me, Mary, but please believe me when I tell you I acted for what I thought was your own good. Father told me Harry had suddenly shown unmistakable signs of insanity, and we knew he had acted queerly several times before, so I thought it was true and came to warn you. Of course he wasn't, but all that explanation came out afterward. But where in the world is he? The whole town is agog!"

"I haven't the faintest idea," was the short response, and Muriel, sensing the futility of persisting, changed the subject.

"Mary, is your mother any better? Wouldn't a few weeks at our place in the Adirondacks restore her completely? Mother is worried about her and told me positively that you were both to leave with us today. I'm sure it will mean health to your mother—the best air, the best food, a splendid doctor, and absolute quiet in the most beautiful surroundings."

Mary hesitated, and Muriel, guessing the cause, added at once:

"We can leave your address, so that your friends will know where you are. You don't think anything has happened to Harry, do you? How did he act when he was here yesterday? Did he propose to you?"

But Muriel's curiosity was not to be satisfied. All Mary said was:

"I don't believe anything has happened to him. He probably anticipated and wished to avoid all this conspicuousness."

"Weren't you terribly surprised to hear that he was so rich?" Muriel tried again.

"Certainly. Weren't you?"

Muriel equivocated easily. "I suspected it. You see, we're old friends, Harry and I."

"So I gather from the paper this morning. I knew you had met, but why did you never tell me—the rest?"

"Oh, those dreadful papers!" exclaimed Muriel. "They print the most outrageous things! But seriously, you must bring your mother with us. I know you want to stay here, but do you think it would be right to do so at the expense of your mother's health?"

It was a powerful appeal, the only one which could have influenced Mary. Before Muriel left it was arranged that Mary and Mrs. Brook were to join the Lannards on their car and go east that afternoon.

"Good," was the only comment Mrs. Lannard made when she heard.

"Have the reporters been here while I was away?" asked Muriel.

"No; they're all scouring the country for Mr. Bacon. It's most extraordinary. I should have thought a young man who has always been so obscure would delight in all this sudden glory. The mayor and all the prominent citizens of Adamant are preparing a reception for him when he does come back. There's to be a parade, speeches, and all the frills. They wanted your father to preside, but he declined."

Muriel laughed. "They ought to ask Mr. Stabb." This drew a faint smile from her mother.

"Poor Stabb! MacFall has just wired asking that he be discharged and that the wages of all the common steel laborers be raised to thirty-six cents an hour. I think I see the hand of your Mr. Bacon in this, so he must be alive and well somewhere!"

Which was true. Although somewhat changed from the shabby young man who had first appeared in Adamant in a battered flivver, Harry Bacon was swiftly approaching the town for the second time in an automobile.

RIOT ON BERLIN'S GOLD COAST; TWO SLAIN BY POLICE

[Copyright: 1922: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Rifle firing and rioting enlivened Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin's fashionable west end, late this evening, when massed organizations of Communist youths attempted to demonstrate on the home grounds of German plutocracy and international night life.

Friction between the young Communists and passersby became so promiscuous that the security police intervened. These guardians, not being armed with night sticks or even day clubs, but with rapid fire revolvers and second line reserve rifles and hand grenades, could do nothing else to restore order but fire into the crowd.

Two of the rioters were killed and a score of others wounded. The fact that the bloodshed took place in Berlin's aristocratic west end is regarded as significant.

DE VALERA NEAR DEATH IN DUBLIN FROM PNEUMONIA

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUBLIN, Sept. 3.—Eamon de Valera is gravely ill in Dublin, according to authoritative reports tonight.

He has not been molested by the government and in all likelihood never will be. Mr. De Valera is a very sick man and if he survives his present illness he will be fortunate not to become an invalid, according to reliable medical information. He is suffering from double pneumonia with complications, and his physicians are not certain of his recovery.

The bedridden leader of the Irish rebels is lying in a private house on the south side of Dublin. He is receiving every possible care and attention.

RUSH ACTION TO BEGIN WORK IN HARD COAL MINES

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—Anthracite miners and operators having settled their wage differences after more than five months of controversy, every effort will be made to start coal production as soon as possible. The scale committee went into session here tonight to consider and approve the agreement and to call a delegate convention of miners at Wilkesbarre this week at ratify the new pact.

It was the first time in the history of anthracite wage negotiations that miners have met on a Sunday, the precedent being broken in order to get quick action. Leaders expressed the opinion that the hard coal mines would be in operation by the first of the week.

REGAINS HEARING IN PLANE FLIGHT

Ex-Service Man Hears After Test Here.

In an experiment yesterday to test whether a person can be cured of deafness by riding in an airplane, Augustus S. Harris of 917 Airdie place, regained partial hearing, he said, after having been pronounced hopelessly deaf by physicians.

Before ascending Harris was unable to hear even the ticking of a watch. When he came to ground 1 hour and 15 minutes later, having risen to an altitude of 15,000 feet, he was able to hear his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, whom he called on the telephone.

He was also able to hear Jimmy Curran, the pilot, his father, William L. Harris, and various persons in the large crowd that had been attracted to the field.

Hears Motor First.

To Curran Harris explained that after reaching a certain altitude he had been able to hear the whirr of the motor.

The flight was made at Ashburn Flying field, in an airplane owned by Dr. R. R. Ferguson of 4175 Irving Park boulevard. Arrangements for it were made by local officers of the American Legion.

Harris, 31 years old, is an ex-service man. He became deaf while sleeping without shelter in a camp in Georgia in 1917. Army physicians who caused his discharge before he had a chance to go overseas said that his deafness was due to exposure. He told newspaper men that his ears seemed to swell up inside.

Have to Repeat Flights.

It is understood that in experiments of the kind made in the east patients have had to repeat the air treatments about once a week. In one case the man was able to hear only six days after his flight. Specialists have not determined whether the cure can be made permanent, it is said.

Dr. Ferguson said Harris will be more likely to have substantial relief after flying three or four times, and to an altitude of 20,000 feet.

He is not Harris' physician and did not have an opportunity to examine his ears before the flight. From his general medical knowledge, however, Dr. Ferguson said that such cures in deafness could be hoped for only in the cases of shell shocked persons and those deafened by "unnatural" afflictions of the auditory organs.

Where the organs are deadened or diseased, he said, the probability of affecting a cure is remote.

Rushes to Phone.

Several hundred spectators were at the field at 4 o'clock, when the airplane took off. Harris was seated in the single passenger's seat in front of Curran, the pilot. Upon landing Harris rushed to a telephone in the airdrome and called his home.

Harris said the first idea he had that his hearing was not totally destroyed was some time ago, when a man hit him a blow on the arm. For a short time after the encounter, he said, he seemed to hear better and had adopted a practice of having friends maul him.

RICHARD SMITH, EDITOR, DIES SOON AFTER HIS CHIEF

Forty-eight hours after he learned that the late Delavan Smith, publisher of the Indianapolis News had left a trust fund of $100,000 for him and his wife, Richard Smith, managing editor of the News and long an associate of the former, died yesterday morning in Indianapolis.

Richard had been managing editor for the wealthy Lake Forest publisher for twenty-five years. The bequest was one of the largest left by Delavan Smith when he died last week. Richard Smith was 63 years old. He is survived by his widow.

The body will be taken to Cincinnati, his old home, for burial.

SLEEPING MEN ARE TRAPPED IN BUNKHOUSE

Many Hurt in Leap from Windows.

BULLETIN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 3.—Late tonight detectives arrested George Figgus, 23, in the Pennsylvania yards about two blocks from the scene of the fire. Questioned at police headquarters, Figgus said he knew nothing about the cause of the fire, but was merely "rubbering." The police decided that Figgus had not given an entirely satisfactory account of his actions and he was booked on an open charge.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Seven car repairmen, recently employed, were burned to death, ten men were injured severely, and property loss of $220,000 was wrought by fire which started at dawn today in a bunkhouse in 30th street yards of the Pennsylvania railroad and swept through the building with almost incredible speed. Nearly all the bodies were charred beyond recognition.

The corpse of J. P. Carr, Baltimore, Md., was positively identified, however. Railway officials made a check of all employés living in the bunkhouse and gave out the following list of missing tonight:

Fail to Find One Body.

Search of the wreckage failed to reveal an eighth body. Railway representatives said it was possible that one of the above listed men failed to report after he had fled from the blazing bunkhouse. Office records were destroyed and the addresses of some of the victims could not be obtained.

The most seriously injured employé is J. Mineru Tajuma, Tokio, Japan, an air brake inspector's helper. Tajuma and the other employés who sustained injuries were hurt when they jumped from the second story of the bunkhouse.

The burned building was within a few feet of the main eastbound tracks and within sight of the Union station.

Questions Two Shopmen.

George W. McCandless, director of public safety, announced that two railroad shopmen were questioned in his office this afternoon. He authorized this announcement:

"We have only begun our investigation. Two shopmen were questioned in my office in the presence of government agents and officials of the Pennsylvania road. I cannot make any announcement tonight regarding the cause of the fire, but I think I can promise a statement tomorrow."

Strikers Admit Killing.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 3.—Seth W. Poston, Albert Johns, Charles Moak and Frank A. Miller, who declared themselves to be striking railroad shopmen, tonight confessed, according to a police announcement, that they were implicated in the ambuscade which resulted in the killing yesterday of Charles H. Lanier, nonunion Frisco shop worker, but declared it was not their intention to kill Lanier and that the ambush was arranged merely to frighten Clarence B. Stevens, a shop foreman, one of two other men in the automobile with Lanier when he was killed.

Laugh at Slain "Scabs."

Police tonight made public a letter they said was found in Moak's pocket, addressed to him from Marshall, Tex., dated July 28, and which, according to the police, Moak said was from his wife, who was visiting in the Texas town.

The letter inquired "how many scabs have you killed? Ha, ha! I know you are having some fun now, for you can chase them all day and don't have to sleep and go home."

In the signed confession of Poston, as made public by the police, he related that he discussed the tragedy with Johns and Moak Saturday night "at a car men's meeting."

Drive Spikes Between Rails.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 2.—Local officers are investigating an attempt to wreck Colorado and Southern passenger train No. 2. Spikes pulled from the ties were driven between rail joints, but only the front trucks of the engine were derailed. No passengers were injured.

"Wild" Auto Bears Woman into Niagara

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 3.—An automobile plunged over the cliff near the cataract at Niagara Falls this afternoon and was dashed to pieces 200 feet below on the river's edge. Mrs. Agatha Miller, 54 years old, wife of D. H. Miller of Cleveland, fell to her death with the car. Her body was recovered.

The accident happened just north of the upper steel arch bridge. Mrs. Miller was alone in the car, in the rear seat. The car was parked on the grass near the customs office at the American end of the bridge, facing the river on a slight slope. There is no guard rail at the cliff edge. The owner and driver of the car, Edward Meyers of Buffalo, had left it, as he thought, safely parked.

Car Slips Down Slope.

For some reason it began to slip down the slope and Mrs. Miller, who was of heavy build, realized her danger. Her screams aroused the bystanders and two men, Harry Andrew, colored, of Buffalo, and Joseph Goldberg of Toronto, grabbed the rear fenders and strove desperately to stop the car. They kept their holds until it reached the very brink and plunged into the gorge.

Mrs. Miller tried to extricate herself but she was not quick enough. G. E. Darling and Eustace Evans, both of Elkhart, Ind., were standing below the bridge looking up and saw the machine come over the bank. Mrs. Miller's body fell from it. The car struck the slope at the foot of the cliff and plunged on to the river's edge, a tangled mass of débris. Mrs. Miller's body was recovered on the bank at the base of the cliff. It was identified later by her husband.

Woman Left Alone in Car.

The Millers and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kerrigan of West Park, Cleveland, came to Buffalo this morning and hired Meyers to drive them to the falls, sightseeing. As they were about to cross the bridge into Canada the Canadian authorities refused to allow the car to enter because Meyers did not have his license card with him. Meyers parked his car while he went to see if the matter could not be adjusted. His passengers, all save Mrs. Miller, went with him. She was left alone in the automobile and the accident followed.

MERCHANT DIES ESCORTING BODY OF HIS BROTHER

It was a journey of sadness for Leopold Jacobs, wealthy hide and leather merchant of Newark, N. J., from New York to Chicago, where he arrived early last night, for in the baggage car was the body of his brother, his inseparable comrade down the years. He was taking the body to their old home in Eau Claire, Wis., for burial.

Leopold Jacobs' sadness deepened as he and his sister, Lena, and his sister-in-law, widow of Robert, took a cab across the city. At the Northwestern station, just as he got out of the cab and started to superintend the reshipment of the body, Jacobs toppled and fell.

An hour later he died in the station's emergency room.

"Apoplexy," the doctors said.

"A broken heart," was the verdict of the weeping sister.

The grief-stricken women went to the Blackstone hotel for the night, while an undertaker prepared the body of the second brother for burial.

Hinton Seaplane Resumes Flight; at St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg, Fla., Sept. 3.—The seaplane Sampaio Correia No. 2, with Lieut. Walter Hinton and his associates, arrived here today from Pensacola on their resumed flight to Brazil. The flight was without incident, although squalls were encountered.

There was a storm over Tampa bay tonight, but if weather conditions permit the trip will be resumed at daybreak tomorrow with Key West as the next scheduled stopping place.

LABOR DAY SKY OVERCAST, BUT SUNNY IN SPOTS

Coal Peace Lightens Railroad Clouds.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Labor day finds organized workers of the United States in a turmoil over the federal government's sweeping injunction against the shopmen's strike, but the settlement last night of the prolonged anthracite coal strike, in the wake of Samuel Gompers' announcement that a general strike might be considered in retaliation against the injunction move, has served to temper the radical wind that has been blowing over industrial America since Friday afternoon.

The ending of the coal strike, which came as a result of government pleadings, is regarded here as an indication that the workers of the country are in no mood to rally around a general strike leader. Even some of the representative labor leaders are known to have received Mr. Gompers' Friday night interview on the injunction with considerable surprise.

Think General Strike Would Fail.

While they agree with everything he said about the drastic character of the injunction, and are willing to enlist in a fight to overcome it, they do not believe a general strike can be precipitated or that it would avail in the circumstances.

Mr. Gompers himself, some of his closest friends assert, is not advocating a general strike. They argue that he merely referred to it as a possible development which the American Federation of Labor executive council must consider when it meets next Saturday. When the council does meet, they believe, it will not recommend any general strike. There never has been anything of the kind in the United States.

Would Fail Into Trap.

Their argument against the general strike is that it is the very thing that some of the radical organizations of capital have been seeking to precipitate in their warfare against trade unionism and that it would be suicidal for organized labor to rush into the trap.

Organized labor, they assert, is still organizing in the United States, and will not plunge into a general warfare with capital at this stage. Some of the organized labor leaders point to Mr. Gomper's statement to the American people, issued for publication on Labor day, as an indication that he is looking for no general strike and is, in fact, satisfied with conditions generally as they relate to the unions' conflict of several years with organized capital.

Gompers' Labor Day Advice.

"Organize! Organize! Organize!" says Mr. Gompers. "Organize in trade unions. This is my message to the workers of America Labor day, 1922.

"For four years the enemies of the workers and of humanity have waged an incessant war against the trade union movement in particular and labor in general.

"Out of this war certain facts stand forth preëminently: It is apparent that the workers who have suffered least in the anti-labor war are the workers who are most thoroughly organized in their respective trades. It is equally apparent that the workers who have suffered most—whose wages have been cut to the bread line and below, whose hours of labor have been inordinately lengthened—are the ones who are unorganized or weakly organized.

Cites Lesson of Four Years.

"The organized workers have weathered the war with compact forces ever ready to go forward and confound the enemies of labor and of humanity and to carry on to success the toilers' struggle for the elimination of wrong and the establishment of justice.

"The unorganized workers, fighting single handed if at all, are weakened, scattered and helpless in their unequal battle against the organized employers.

"The experiences of this four years anti-labor war compels the toilers to recognize how completely they are thrown upon their own resources in the struggle to maintain and improve their standard of living and social status.

"Every contest with the owners and manipulators of industry accentuates the truth that the workers have but few outside their own ranks who sympathize with them in their determination to emancipate mankind or support them in their efforts.

Must Depend on Themselves.

"The uncounted victories that organized labor wins, the few temporary setbacks, cry aloud the divine truth that justice for those who toil can only come through the workers' own efforts.

their own organization, their own persistence.

"Now is the time for the workers to rally more completely under the standard of the unions.

"Now is the time for the workers to organize thoroughly and compactly and, with the spirit of solidarity that comes from organization in a noble movement for a noble purpose, present such a united workers' front to the powers that prey that even the strongest battalions of labor's exploiters will retreat in disorder before the serried onsweeping ranks of humanity's hosts."

Radicals Ever Active.

An analysis of the scores of messages to the American Federation of Labor urging a general strike to punish the government for its injunction move is said to show that they came from the radical wings of various unions and do not represent the thoughtful conclusion of the great labor organizations.

An indication as to how the executive council of the American Federation of Labor is likely to stand on a general strike is contained in a message received here from James Duncan, first vice president of the federation, which said:

"The general strike idea could only be considered as a last resort for maintenance of freedom."

In this message, it was declared here tonight, is a hint as to the probable course which will be pursued by the federation with respect to the injunction. It is going to fight but will fight in the courts. Already, it is declared, the attorneys for the railroad shopmen and the American Federation of Labor are preparing their case against the injunction, having primarily the contention that the injunction is in direct violation of the Clayton anti-trust act and freedom of speech as the basis of their opposition.

Government to Defend Injunction.

The national administration meanwhile is proceeding with its plans to have the injunction made permanent, with no heed paid to threats of a general strike. The President has made it clear that the trains must run and, although he has not said so, it is regarded here as certain that the President will not hesitate to use the military if necessary.

Department of justice agents are accumulating a mass of complaints of conspiracy and attempts to destroy railroad property during the railroad strike, to be submitted to the court in Chicago Sept. 11 when the motion to make the injunction permanent is to be heard.

It also is probable that conspiracy cases against various individuals and groups of strike leaders may be instituted in the near future as part of the government's plan to enforce the statutes protecting the operation of interstate commerce.

Davis Points to Labor's Victories.

In a Labor day message to the American people Secretary of Labor Davis today declared, "We can look with pride upon the achievements of the last twelve months. We have conquered the menace of unemployment and have prevented a wage panic. We have put between four and five million men back to work and at wages which leave the general wage level of the nation very little below the high point reached following the war."

The labor secretary believes the nation is "at the threshold of an era of unexampled prosperity."

OLANDER WARNS PERIL LOOMS IN "LAW USURPERS"

Quotes Jefferson in Rap on Injunction.

Citing a prophecy of Thomas Jefferson, Victor A. Olander, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, inveighs against "judicial usurpers" in a formel statement issued last night as a "Labor day warning."

While it contained no specific reference, the statement was interpreted in some quarters as a protest against the drastic temporary injunction obtained in Federal court here last Friday by Attorney General Daugherty against the striking railway shopmen.

"Gnawing at Heart of Republic."

"The judicial usurpers are gnawing at the very heart of our republic," the statement reads. "America must awaken to its danger. Labor must sound a warning everywhere throughout the length and breadth of our land.

"America will awaken. The common people, the workers of our nation and their children, who are still taught to recite the Declaration of Independence in the public schools of the land, will not permit the nation to forget that the corner stone of our republic is that glorious proclamation which announced to the world that our government is based upon the equality of man as a creature of God, endowed with inherent and inalienable rights.

"Government by law must and will be restored within our borders. Personal government—the discretionary exercise of practically unlimited power by the judiciary—will not be permitted to overwhelm us."

Cites Warning by Jefferson.

Referring to a warning sounded by Jefferson, Mr. Olander's statement reads:

"When that greatest of American statesmen, Thomas Jefferson, author of the immortal Declaration of Independence, uttered his prophetic warning against usurpation of power by the judiciary, he foresaw and practically foretold a very dangerous development in American history which did not become apparent until about thirty years ago.

"'It has long been my opinion, and I have never shrunk from its expression,' said Jefferson, 'that the germ of dissolution of our federal government is in the judiciary—the irresponsible body working like gravity, by day and by night, gaining a little today and gaining a little tomorrow, and advancing its noiseless step like a thief over the field of jurisdiction until all shall be usurped.'

"Encroachment of personal government upon government by law has always been made upon the hypocritical plea that the exercise of increased discretionary power by governing officials is necessary for protection of the people.

First Step in Injunction.

"The first step is always made where it will attract the least attention and is, therefore, directed against the poor and lowly. Thus it is in America today.

"Personal government reared its ugly head against government by law in our great country thirty years ago, when the kingly power to issue proclamations against the people was revived in the form of an injunction, or so-called restraining order, proclaimed against a group of workers for the alleged purpose of maintaining the peace."

TOTH ABANDONS CHANNEL SWIM AFTER 14 MILES

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Charles Toth, American swimmer, trying to swim the English channel, had to leave the water about 5:45 this morning, when he was five miles off Cape Grisnez. When Toth started from Dover the sky was heavy with clouds from which a little later lightning was flashing, but it was thought the weather conditions could be favorable. Calculations were upset, however, as from midnight the wind was blowing hard.

Nevertheless, Toth made fine progress with the powerful trudgeon stroke for the next two hours, although the sea become so rough that it was difficult for the attending boat to keep near the swimmer. Finally, it was deemed advisable to abandon the plucky attempt which lasted over eleven hours. There was much difficulty in getting Toth aboard the boat in such seas, as his greased body several times slipped back into the water from the hands of his helpers.

Sam Richards of Boston started with Toth but lasted only two hours. Henry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., is expected to make the attempt at the first opportunity. Walter Patterson of Bridgeport, Conn., will try in a fortnight.

JEWELL IN HIDING, GETS STATEMENT BEFORE PUBLIC

Shopmen's Leader May Be in Canada.

BULLETIN.

Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Leaders of the railway shopcrafts here have advertised that Bert M. Jewell will deliver a Labor day address at Graham, Va., when 4,000 railroad men from Princeton, Eckman, Pocahontas, Bluefield, and other places will celebrate. Labor leaders expressed confidence that their chief would be present.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Victory for the striking shopmen was predicted in a statement received here today from B. M. Jewell, national strike leader. Whether the statement was written before Attorney General Daugherty obtained the federal injunction in Chicago is not known, as Mr. Jewell's whereabouts tonight are a mystery.

Local strike leaders appeared to manifest keen interest in reports from Chicago that not only Mr. Jewell but also other high officials of the shopcraft unions were missing and their whereabouts sought by the federal process servers. While Jewell was reported to have come east, they denied he had arrived in New York and expressed the belief that he and the other union heads had gone to Canada to avoid the injunction writ.

Rumors were current that the international union officials had made plans some time ago for such an emergency and were prepared not only to take refuge in Canada but to also take union funds there. Their whereabouts, it was said, will probably be revealed soon.

"Realize Our Power."—Jewell.

"We have now reached the point where the entire country admits the power and effectiveness of our strike and is seriously anxious for a settlement," said the Jewell statement received here today. "That confession comes from the President, from congress, from the interstate commerce commission, from governors of states, from the actions of the United States Steel corporation, Ford, the packers, and thousands of factories, big and little. It is admitted in trade papers and newspapers everywhere.

"Trade and market reports state that the shortage in grain cars is increasing, also that tank cars for fuel are very hard to get. Congestion continues, especially on the coal carrying roads. Lumber mills are finding great difficulty in getting cars. Many municipal light plants are now forced to suspend operations after 10 p. m. because of the shortage of fuel. Four more steel mills around Chicago have shut down this last week, making a total decrease of operations amounting to 30 per cent since the beginning of the strike.

Blames Wrecks on Equipment.

"The railway executives can poohpooh all they please, but their own actions as well as all the other evidence proves that our strike is strong enough to win. It is our job now to realize our strength and the strength of our position and the circumstances, and hold fast and secure a more decisive victory even than the miners won."

Referring to the condition of equipment, the statement continued:

"The number of wrecks due to bad order equipment has increased this last week. In addition to those reported in the public press we have reports from several lines of locomotives leaving the rails because of sharp flanges, and one instance where the engineer and fireman were badly scalded as the result of a burnt crown sheet."

Demand General Strike.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 3.—The Central Labor union, comprising all labor bodies of the city, today importuned President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor to authorize a nation-wide strike vote of all crafts.

WAR ROMANCE

Mrs. George Rieger, formerly Miss Jeanette Hanauer.

A war-time romance culminated in matrimony yesterday afternoon when Miss Jeanette Hanauer, 3139 Edgewood avenue, and George Rieger, 2646 North Sawyer avenue, former lieutenant of the 339th field artillery, were married at Hotel La Salle. Stationed at Camp Grant, prior to spending a year and several months overseas, Lieut. Rieger was wont to come to Chicago for weekends. Here he met Miss Hanauer, and the romance began. The bridegroom, a civil engineer before the war, is now in the employ of Joseph Miner & Co., furriers.

JEERS JAIL RAIL STRIKER UNDER U. S. INJUNCTION

First "Contempt" Arrest Made in Chicago.

Chicago listed the first arrest under the "Daugherty injunction" against striking railway shopmen, made early yesterday by H. M. Jemsen, United States deputy marshal.

A second arrest under the sweeping temporary restraining order obtained by the attorney general in federal court here last Friday was reported a few hours later from Hartford, Conn.

Alleged to have derided railroad employes bound for work, Hugh Noonan, said to be a striking shopman, was taken into custody by the deputy marshal at 95th street, on the Illinois Central right of way.

Faced by Contempt Charge.

Noonan, who formerly was employed in the Illinois Central shops, was taken to Burnside police station, where it was said he was under influence of liquor. He will appear in federal court tomorrow to show cause why he should not be held in contempt, it was said.

The arrest at Hartford was on a more serious charge. A striking machinist, according to press dispatches, was caught in the act of damaging a locomotive so that it would explode under heavy steam pressure, probably on the road.

Doubt was expressed here as to whether either of these cases would afford a test of the federal restraining order. It was pointed out that a plea of drunkenness by Noonan would weaken the case against him, so far as contempt proceedings might be concerned, and that the seriousness of the Hartford case puts it in the category of criminal offenses.

Marshals on Alert.

The army of 5,000 United States deputy marshals assigned to carry out the court's order are on the alert throughout the country, according to reports, with strict orders to enforce the injunction "to the letter."

Robert R. Levy, United States marshal in Chicago, as well as others the country over, reports indicated, were preparing last night to cope with any eventualities of Labor day demonstrations.

The only formal labor turnout in this vicinity will be at Maywood.

POULIN FIGHTS PATERNITY CASE AS "BLACKMAIL"

Deserts Professor Made Demand for Money.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 3.—[Special.] A fight to the finish is scheduled in the battle started by Prof. John T. Tiernan, 32, of the law school at the University of Notre Dame, to compel Harry Poulin, 30, well known South Bend clothing man, to acknowledge and support a child born to Mrs. Tiernan in November, 1921.

This was forecast today when Poulin was released from jail under bond of $1,000, his first act being to deny the charges against him and to accuse the university instructor of blackmail.

Prof. Tiernan, the father of two children, had last night caused the arrest of Poulin, also the father of two children, charging him with being the father of a child born to Mrs. Tiernan.

"I'm Innocent," Poulin Says.

"I am innocent of the slanderous charges," Poulin declared. "This is a case of blackmail which has been in progress for eight months. As soon as the child was born Tiernan approached me with a demand for money with which to pay the medical fees in connection with the birth of Mrs. Tiernan's child.

"This I naturally refused to do, for the reason that I am not the father. Later, Tiernan, through an attorney, offered to settle the case on payment of a lump sum, offering to then drop the matter without forcing me to make any admissions. I certainly will fight.'

Because of the prominence of all the parties concerned, the case has caused a sensation here.

"Harry Poulin was my trusted friend," said Prof. Tiernan. "He partook of my hospitality and enjoyed my confidence. I believe he enjoyed the respect of the community. After I have obtained a monetary settlement for this child, I shall use my best efforts as a citizen to have him expelled from the community. Officials of the Elks, Knights of Columbus, and Optimist clubs have already invited me to present my evidence.

Neighbors for Witnesses.

"He invegled my wife originally into the intimacies by telling her that his wife was suffering from tuberculosis and that she would soon die, leaving him free to marry. On these assurances that he would do so she yielded to him.

"The case is not only established by Poulin's confession to his wife, and my wife's confession to me, but by the testimony of Poulin's neighbors, who saw these things through the window.

"I shall subpoena all of Poulin's friends. There will be nothing suppressed, but all will be thrashed out publicly.

"Before I consented to this proceeding I sought the advice of the church, and I was assured that my conduct in proceeding this way was entirely proper, since every appeal to Mr. Poulin's sense of moral obligation failed to find an answer."

Alleges Disordered Mind.

Poulin in his answer to Prof. Tiernan charged that his arrest was due to "the disordered state of the legal instructor's mind," citing the fact that Tiernan continued living with his wife after he knew of the alleged misdeed.

"There is no law court in the country which would sustain Tiernan's action, nor are there any fairminded persons who will fail to perceive the absurdity of his charges," declared Poulin. "Two or three weeks ago Tiernan, through trickery, obtained the signature of his wife, then almost hysterical through his continued efforts to make her admit guilt, to an affidavit charging me with being the father of her boy born last November."

"MOTHER JONES," MINERS' FRIEND, SERIOUSLY ILL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Jones, known throughout the nation as "Mother Jones, friend of the coal miners, is ill at the home of T. V. Powderly, secretary to the board of review of the department of labor. She had a serious breakdown several weeks ago, and her physicians were afraid she would not survive.

Mother Jones is 92 years old. She has been a familiar figure in all coal mine strikes for many years. During the present dispute many persons wondered where she was but not until recently has her whereabouts been known.

Police were furnished last night with a description of a large touring car which early yesterday hit and dragged John Bishton, 13 years old, 118 West 110th street, nearly a block, leaving him to die in a ditch.

The machine, said to have been traveling at great speed, hit the boy while he was crossing the street at 95th street and Stony Island avenue. He died in Burnside hospital.

Nicholas Nastro, 404 South Michigan boulevard, was probably fatally injured early yesterday when a touring car in which he was riding collided with a truck at Michigan and 8th street. He suffered a skull fracture.

The right leg of Miss Sybil Tripham, 15 years old, 6541 South Racine avenue, was so badly injured last night when she was struck by a truck that surgeons at St. Bernard's hospital were forced to amputate it.

Charles Harmon, 36, 4206 Cottage Grove avenue, suffered a broken right arm, fractured ribs, and other injuries that may cause his death, and Miss Leona Farr, 946 North La Salle street, and Joseph Cuttier, 33, 1941 Berteau avenue, were severely cut and bruised last night when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole at Ewing avenue and 108th street.

When Fred O'Neill, 911 Fletcher street, county highway motor policeman, attempted to avoid striking William Moore, 6426 Newgard avenue, a mail carrier, at Belmont and Clark, he was thrown to the street and both legs broken.

DID VALENTINO'S KISS MAKE WIFE GIVE UP VOYAGE?

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding, Mrs. Rodolf Valentino, bride of the motion picture actor and adopted daughter of Richard Hudnut, the perfumer, did not sail with Mr. and Mrs. Hudnut for Europe yesterday aboard the Olympic.

Although she posed for newspaper camera men and to ship news reporters told how she would divide her time between the Hudnut estate on the Riviera and the study of architecture in Paris until her husband should join her for a Paris rewedding early in next March, when his divorce from Jean Acker becomes absolute, it was learned today that she suddenly changed her mind, had her baggage put ashore at the last moment, and came off the ship unrecognized just before the gangplank was lifted.

LOVE TRIANGLE OF POVERTY AND GOLD NEARS END

Dresser Junction, Wis., Sept. 3.—[United News.]—The denouement of a triangle in which all of the modern embellishments are missing is to take place here when the second wife, young, beautiful, and wealthy, takes her predecessor, old, gray, and poor, in her arms and assures her that part of the wealth of John Boch, wealthy California mine owner, is to be hers.

Mrs. Eleanor Boch, the second wife, has searched for years for the first wife of the man who is said to have made millions in Alaska. Finding her in this tiny hamlet, she wired Mrs. Lottie Boch she was coming to give over part of the fortune that is now her husband's.

According to Mrs. Lottie Boch, she was happy with her husband, working to aid him when the Klondike gold rush came. John Boch went, leaving his young wife in Chicago to "carry on" while he sought their fortune.

Then fortune came to Boch, but he did not return. Instead he went to San Francisco and quietly got a divorce and married his present wife.

The second Mrs. Boch, on learning of the woman who had waited fruitlessly for years for the return of her husband, demanded that she be given part of his wealth, according to a letter to the former wife.

Mrs. Eleanor Boch is on her way here from Chicago, according to a message Sunday.

HUSBAND SHOOTS WIFE; ACCIDENT, HE TELLS POLICE

Mrs. Carolina Ginza, 4750 South Loomis street, was shot in the abdomen, possibly fatally, by her husband, Frank Ginza, yesterday and was immediately removed to the county hospital. Police are holding Ginza pending the condition of his wife.

MRS. CAROLINE GINZA.

According to Ginza the shooting affair was an accident. He told the police that Fred Law, a member of the Pinkerton detective agency, visited his home yesterday, and fell asleep on the front porch. Ginza, taking Law's revolver, was explaining its mechanism to his wife, he said, when the weapon discharged.

HUGHES REACHES RIO TUESDAY FOR BIG BRAZIL FETE

Will Assist in Opening International Fair.

BY JOHN WHITE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 3.—With the arrival Tuesday of the American battleships Maryland and Nevada, escorting Secretary of State Hughes, Brazil will begin the commemoration of its declaration of independence with the most elaborate celebration in South American history. The celebration will be marked by the opening of the international exposition, which for grandeur and the number of nations participating, will rival the St. Louis world's fair.

The exposition is not nearly ready to open, but the official celebration is proceeding this week because Sept. 7 is Brazil's Fourth of July. Before the week ends thirteen visiting warships flying the flags of seven nations will be anchored in Rio harbor, and special diplomatic missions from more than a score of countries will be participating in the festivities.

Japanese Cruisers Arrive.

Three Japanese cruisers carrying naval cadets arrived this morning and the British cruisers, Hood and Repulse, are expected before night. Two Mexican warships arrived Saturday with 200 military cadets, the Mexican general staff's band of ninety-five pieces and the famous Torre Bianca orchestra. Portugal, Argentina, and Uruguay also are sending warships.

Just before the American mission arrives at Rio de Janeiro, Secretary Hughes and his party will board the U. S. S. Maryland and be escorted into the harbor by the U. S. S. Nevada. President Pessoa of Brazil will receive Mr. Hughes privately soon after his arrival and the official program will begin Wednesday with the president's reception to the foreign ministers.

GREETS FATHER NEPTUNE.

On Board the Steamer Pan America, Sept. 2.—[By Wireless to the Associated Press.]—When the Steamer Pan America crossed the equator Neptune held his usual court to try those who never before had entered his domain.

Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, and other members of the American mission going to Brazil for the centennial, were tried for numerous crimes and misdemeanors.

Mr. Hughes was accused of boisterous conduct, loud laughter, and antique jokes and of having undermined the prestige of Neptune by scrapping battleships. Mr. Hughes pleaded guilty to all counts. Maj. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard was compelled to go through the manual of arms on conviction of the charge laid against him. Supreme Court Justice Edward Finch was accused of subornation of perjury and was sentenced to write a poem. This he did, paying tribute to President Harding and President Pessoa of Brazil.

New Cruelty Charges Made by Gary Lawyer

Charges that a fifth striker had been arrested by the Chicago police in the Gary "Million Dollar" express wreck and so badly beaten in an attempt to get a confession that he is confined in a city hospital, were made yesterday in Gary by Paul Glaser, attorney for the four alleged "Red" plotters held there.

Headquarters police last night denied knowledge of the arrest or whereabouts of John Pavlezetich, the man named by Glaser.

SPIRIT'S CHOICE

MISS HELEN ROGERS.

FOSTER DERIDES RAIL LEADERS' STRIKE METHODS

Aid Pledged Workers by Federation Head.

William Z. Foster, champion of the one big union plan, and now under charges following the recent "red" raid in Bridgman, Mich., yesterday appeared before the Chicago Federation of Labor and denounced "the $25,000 a year labor leaders" who are conducting the shopmen's strike.

"Despite their poor leadership the shopmen have the companies on the hook and they are getting injunctions nobody gives a damn about," he asserted.

At the conclusion of his fiery speech a resolution was adopted pledging "moral and financial aid to the shopmen in their bitter fight," although a less radical element in the audience afterward declared this a violation of the Daugherty injunction granted Friday in the Federal court her.

Foster, declared several months ago by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, to be a Lenin emissary in America, asserted that the whole "rail strike struggle is due to stupid leadership."

"It is tragic when you remember that there are nine organizations at work on the railroads while only five are on strike," said the chief of the O. B. U. clansmen. "If the rail workers were united the roads would never have attempted to start this fight."

"An army can't go into battle divided. The artillery and air service couldn't stand aside and say let the infantry do it, it isn't our fight," he said.

Following Foster's speech a resolution was adopted by the federation protesting against his recent arrest as well as the arrest of other radicals at Berrien, Mich.

John Fitzpatrick, president; Edward Nockels, secretary; Thomas Kennedy, treasurer, and Fred Hopp, financial secretary, had no opposition in the nomination of officials of the federation for the ensuing year. Oscar Nelson, vice president, will run against Ben Ferris for his position.

WIFE'S SPIRIT BIDS MUSICIAN MARRY AGAIN

Violinist to Wed School-ma'am of Batavia.

Sig. Vincenzo Gullotta, 40 year old Italian violinist, a week from tomorrow will wed Miss Helen Rogers, the Batavia school teacher, who he claims the spirit of his dead wife chose for him, as his second bride.

The marriage date was announced yesterday. They will be married in the bride's home at Des Plaines.

The dark haired violinist startled Batavia in May when, after returning from a tour of Italy while mourning the death of his wife, he announced that his dead wife's presence in his "nights of pain" had inspired him with the belief that she would be happy if he would only marry Miss Rogers.

Returns from Europe.

Hastily he had returned from Europe, proposed to Miss Rogers, and was accepted. Now comes the marriage.

And ever since Gullotta, who has twice toured the continent as a Chautauqua player, announced that he had obeyed his wife's mandate, his nights have been undisturbed—she has not returned, he asserted yesterday.

It's a sign of her content," he explained in announcing his approaching marriage to Miss Rogers. "Her counsel has been followed and she is rejoicing that my happiness is in the keeping of a lovely woman, lofty minded and pure of heart, a rarely sweet companion."

Like gypsy romance was the wedded life of Sig. Gullotta and Ruth Gregg, Chicago girl. Up and down the continents of the world they wandered, he with his violin, she at the piano playing the accompaniment to his gifted bow.

Had Planned Trip to Italy.

For twelve years, they were companions. Then Ruth died and Gullotta suffered agony, he said. His trip to Italy was one they'd planned together and never made.

And from the trip came peace of mind and a certainty that in the long nights she returned to advise him.

It was after one of these "inward communions," as he describes them, that he hastened home and proposed to the Batavia school teacher.

Gullotta has obtained a position as director of music at Mooseheart and they will make their home there.

CANADA PLUGS WHISKY BARREL LEAKS INTO U. S.

Two New Laws Block Wholesale Smugglers.

BY CHARLES BISHOP.*

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 3.—The profitable international enterprise of bootlegging carried on so extensively between Canada and the United States will become much more difficult by reason of recent enactments of the Canadian parliament. One of them is already in force, another will be effective on Oct. 1, by which time the provinces will have passed certain ordinances essential to invoking the act.

The liquor laws in Canada are full of anomalies, arising from a divided federal and provincial, or state, jurisdiction. This condition of things has functioned to the enormous advantage of the illicit operators. Gradually, however, the voids are being filled and the "trade" sewed up.

Position of Dominion.

The manufacture, the import, and the export of liquor come exclusively within the constitutional competence of the dominion; the regulation of the sale is a provincial matter. All but one Canadian province—British Columbia—has prohibited the right of the individual to import liquor from abroad, and the bar has been abolished everywhere, though its equivalent operates in Quebec.

In any part of Canada it is a far call between present conditions and absolute prohibition. In Quebec spirituous liquors are sold at depots in every urban center, run by a government liquor commission, whole hotels and saloons are allowed to sell beer and wines. How profitable is this government undertaking in Quebec is indicated by a profit of almost $5,000,000 in 1921, the first year of its operation. Obviously the population of Quebec, inherently a sober and industrious people, are not doing all the buying or drinking. The bulk of the patronage is from the itinerant outsider, a great many from the United States.

In the other provinces, apart from British Columbia, where there are government stores and as well the right of importation for private consumption, liquor is sold only on medical prescriptions for from twelve to forty ounces. The intent of this law is openly flaunted.

Trade Into United States.

But there is nothing in the Canadian law which prevents the export of liquor from distilleries or bonded warehouses to the United States. So long as the duty or excise is paid, the trade heretofore has been free to consign shipments as it pleased. Where the landing would be made and by what means the Volstead act would be circumvented would be left to the genius of the shipper or his American confederates

For example, heretofore it would have been possible for a cargo of booze to be cleared at customs at Toronto, consigned to the port of Chicago, quite regardless of the American law which prohibits the entry of such contraband. The ship would steam away, ostensibly for Chicago or whatever lake port might have been designated, but it would never arrive there—with its cargo.

Out on the lake somewhere, under the cover of night probably, it would be met by another craft or flotilla of motor boats, to which transhipment would be made, for the purpose of effecting a secret landing at some isolated center of bootlegging operations. The ship likely would go on and deliver package freight, apart from the main cargo.

Blow at This Traffic.

One of the recent acts is designed to stop this. Before any shipment can be made it is now necessary for the exporter to secure the bond of a reputable guarantee company for an amount double the duty, this bond being collectable by the government unless a customs certificate is produced that the consignment was actually landed at the port designated in the clearance papers.

If the conditions of the bond are complied with, it is obvious that the shipment would fall automatically into the hands of the United States authorities and be seized on landing. If, on the other hand, the United States customs should be evaded by transhipping the cargo before arrival, the bond would be forfeited, and no surety company would likely be party to a second attempt. If it should be willing, its guarantee would not be accepted. The trade has been protesting against this prohibitive regulation and has sought a mandamus, but without avail.

New Blow to Bootleggers.

The other provision of the law, which will come into effect on Oct. 1, is of particular interest to the middle west. It was enacted at the request of the legislature of Saskatchewan. In that province particularly, but not exclusively, are a number of liquor houses with stocks in bond which do not attempt any business of local supply, but are in the export trade. The "export" consists in supplying bootleggers from across the United States boundary. The traffic built up has attained huge proportions.

The province was unable to restrict the operation and an appeal to the federal authority has now brought forth a statute whose effect is to abolish these export establishments. Their stocks must be disposed of within a month. The export privilege is limited to distillers and brewers, and on their part illegal operation is frustrated by the aforementioned bonding requirements and the requisite certificates of landing.

While the new legislation was initiated by bodies having to do with the provincial liquor laws, it is no secret that in part it is the outcome of coöperative effort with revenue authorities of the United States.

Shot Without Trial.

I will mention a few cases out of the hundreds with which I was acquainted. There was the old Princess Shcherbatoff, who lived on her estate near Moscow with her son, recently married to a daughter of the murdered Prime Minister Stolypin, her daughter, and a young Miss Stolypin. One day the bolsheviks made their appearance on the estate, dragged out the whole family except the young princess, who was down with typhoid, and shot them in the park. The princess escaped in the night and saw the dead bodies of the massacred lying in a heap.

There was the case of the three brothers B——, of whom two lived on their estate and the third, a former diplomat, in Petrograd. The bolsheviki, without giving them a trial, executed the two brothers in the country. A few months later a bolshevik commissary came to the Petrograd home of the third brother and showed him an order for the arrest of one of the others, already dead. When told of the evident mistake the commissary declared that after all it made no difference to him and he would arrest the one still alive. He was taken to a prison in Petrograd, never was tried, and was transferred to a Moscow prison, where my husband met him later. After several months of detention he died of spotted typhus.

"Red Terror" Begins.

During the last days of August, 1918, after the assassination of Uritzky, head of the extraordinary commission in Petrograd, a "red terror" was proclaimed in Russia and thousands of "capitalists" were taken as hostages and thrown in prisons. Several hundred were shot at once. River barges on the Neva were filled with former officers being taken down the river to the Bay of Finland, there to be sunk.

We saw one of these barges pass in front of our house. It was on one of the warm nights we sometimes have in Petrograd during summer. We were sitting on the balcony overlooking the Neva with a secretary of one of the embassies, enjoying the beautiful light effects of the northern "white night," when nothing has sharp lines and everything looks mysterious and soft, being bathed in a bluish gray haze.

There we saw a big barge floating down the river, with armed soldiers on board, and we knew that in that barge 300 or 400 men were packed, all being carried to their doom. In each body a wounded soul protested against the outward of violence which first threw them into that barge and which would soon take their lives—lives which only a short time ago, in the war, they were ready to give up for the glory of their country and which now would be put out by a shot of one of their brothers. They would be slain by one who in his madness first disgraced himself and his country by throwing his rifle away before the enemy and now was ready to kill those who led him on the road of honor.

Cheka Composed of Convicts.

I must tell more about the much dreaded "extraordinary commissions for fighting the counter revolution" or "thchresvitchaika," or cheka, as they were commonly called. The first of them was created in Petrograd just after the bolshevist coup d'état, and soon all the cities in Russia had their cheka.

At the head of all was the pan-Russian extraordinary commission in Moscow. They were composed of men and women, mostly young, uneducated, degenerate, dope addicts, recruited generally from common convicts, devoid of any human feeling. They are given unlimited power over life and property of the "free citizens" of soviet Russia.

Nights of Horror.

Without any legal process they arrested any one suspected of opposition to the bolshevist régime, examined the case, pronounced the verdict of imprisonment or death, and carried out the sentence through their members or their guards. The prisons condemned to death were taken from their cells in the night and shot in the back of the head. In Petrograd the shooting was done mostly in the courtyard of the extraordinary commission's headquarters near St. Isaak's cathedral, on one of the principal thoroughfares of the city.

In one of the largest cities in the Caucasus over 100 former high officials of the old régime were ordered to dig a common grave and then, standing in line on the edge of it, they were cut down with swords by the Lettish guards. Many thrown into the grave and buried were still alive. All next day cries and groans of the buried were heard coming from under the mound.

In the Crimea a sailor who presided over the cheka ordered all the naval and army officers to be arrested—among them wounded invalids in the Red Cross hospitals—and drowned in the sea. Stones were attached to their feet and their bodies were seen afterwards for days in the clear water floating in standing position with arms spread out.

Left to right: A. S. Harris, Dr. R. R. Ferguson, Aviator "Jimmy" Curran. Army surgeons told Harris, a former service man, that they could not cure his deafness, incurred in line of duty. He appealed to the American Legion, and Dr. Ferguson suggested an altitude flight. Curran took Harris up 15,000 feet. After he came down Harris talked with his mother over the telephone. AUTO SALVAGE CONCERN RAIDED FOR STOLEN CARS

Police, led by Capt. John Naughton, fell upon the Goodman Auto Salvage company, 2020 South Wabash avenue, yesterday, and arrested Joseph Goodman, head of the firm, and Michael Goldberg, a mechanic, who are believed to have dismantled stolen cars.

On the premises were found approximately $200,000 worth of automobile parts of all descriptions. On most of the engine blocks the numbers had been filed off.

Goodman, who lives at 4837 South Michigan avenue, and is reputed to be worth half a million dollars, was charged with having received stolen property, while Goldberg was held on a disorderly conduct charge. The first hearing will be held at the South Clark Street court tomorrow.

The raid was the result of an investigation at the repair shop of Joe Dowson, 5649 Shields avenue, where were found the body and chassis of a Paige automobile which bore conflicting serial numbers. Dowson admitted to having bought the body from Goodman. It was found to have been part of the car stolen from John Sloves, 5027 St. Lawrence avenue. Dowson was not arrested.

SWIMS BEYOND DEPTH; DROWNED ERE HELP COMES

Swimming beyond his depth twenty-five feet from the shore at the foot of 74th street, yesterday, William Wilson, a tinsmith living at 5223 South May street, was drowned before help could reach him.

WILLIAM WILSON.

Frank Murphy and John Grady, his two companions, hearing his shouts for help, swam to his assistance, but Wilson sank before they reached him. Grand Crossing police recovered the body, but their attempts to resuscitate the man failed. Wilson's body was removed to his home.

Berlin Protests French Police in Saar Basin

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Germany in a note to the league of nations at Geneva protests against the building of new barracks for French troops in the Saar basin, as well as policing of the territory with several thousand soldiers at the expense of Germany, maintaining that this is a direct violation of the Versailles treaty.

GERMANY WILL REFUSE BELGIUM GOLD GUARANTEE

Seeks New Compromise on Reparations.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The Belgian delegates, who will arrive tomorrow to receive and pass on the German proposals for payment of 28,000,000 gold marks in treasury bonds, which the reparations commission decided should be settled by direct negotiations between Brussels and Paris, will be refused gold guarantees either from the government or private bankers. This at least was the opinion of the German cabinet after a three hour session today with Dr. Schroeder, who represented the government at Paris in its final plea for a moratorium.

Gold guarantees are regarded equivalent to cash payments, the bankers and cabinet officials maintaining that if the government or banks had the necessary gold to deposit the full value of the payments in foreign banks, it might as well make the cash payments.

Hence, instead of giving these guarantees it is suggested that the treasury notes be signed by President Havenstein of the Reichsbank, whose name is signed on Germany's currency as issued. It is a question, however, whether the bankers will be willing to throw their private resources behind the government, especially after the bitter attack on the government by Hugo Stinnes and other German industrial leaders, who called the allied propositions too absurd to discuss and entirely unacceptable.

Expect Belgians to Compromise.

Although the newspapers have stated that the Belgian delegates will have plenipotentiary powers, it was stated at the cabinet meeting that they would only be authorized to outline the attitude of Belgium and with suggestions aid in making the German proposals acceptable. The feeling is expressed that the Belgians will be open to compromise and will not impose conditions which Germany will find unacceptable.

A cabinet member said that since the entire world recognizes Germany's inability to pay cash, it is certain the Belgians will withdraw their demand that the treasury notes be covered by cash in Brussels banks.

The Allgemeine Zeitung, a Stinnes newspaper which was suppressed yesterday for a week for bitterly assailing the government as possessing confidence neither in Germany nor abroad, reappeared today with the same article. Its reappearance was made possible through publication in another province.

Their Golden Day

MR. AND MRS. LEON KLEIN. [Koehne Photo.]

A family dinner at the Chicago Beach hotel, to be followed by an informal reception for their many friends, will mark the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Klein tonight.

Mr. Klein, son of a pioneer Chicago dry goods merchant, was born in 1850, the same year that his father opened his store. Mrs. Klein was the daughter of Hiram Baer Schloss of Philadelphia, in which city she was married a half century ago. Two daughters of the couple live in Chicago.

It is an interesting coincidence that in this issue of THE TRIBUNE, on the editorial page, there appears a facsimile of the wedding announcement of Mr. and Mrs. Klein.

YANKEE GLIDER SAILS 4 MINUTES IN GERMAN FIELD

BY EDMUND ALLEN

of Evanston, member of American glider team.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

GERSFELD, Sept. 3.—The American glider has been unpacked and is now assembled in the Wasserkuppe hangar.

The first flight in the American glider was two minutes, but this time was doubled to four minutes in the second attempt, shooting off in almost calm air from the west side of Wasserkuppe. The favorable upward currents were lost at the height of the starting point. This forced the machine to descend landing two miles away.

Little is known about the rising current on Wasserkuppe. When the air current is studied under all possible conditions of the wind the pilot knows exactly how to handle his machine and then long flights can be made with great success, independent of weather conditions.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

The statement for the striking shopmen, discussing the injunction, says that it is assumed that the right to strike in a lawful manner until a satisfactory settlement can be reached is acknowledged. It is. Congress deliberately left out of the railroad act a restriction of this right and yet it is one in transition.

We do not believe in peremptory measures or violent legislation in handling this issue, but rights and necessities have to be adjusted. If the right to strike meant the right to suspend all transportation until a satisfactory settlement were reached it would mean one of two things. Either it would give complete control to a working group or it would ruin the nation.

The right to strike is accorded in principle, but it is a principle which could not survive certain contingencies. If all the railroad workers used it to put on economic pressure railroad operation would be reorganized on a different basis to save society and the right to strike would be merely the right to quit railroading and seek other means of making a living. It would require a large measure of government force to operate, to protect lives and property, but it would have to be used.

The workers in essential services preserve the principle of the right to strike by not pressing the use of it to extremity. In several necessary public services certain rights of individuals are definitely surrendered to the welfare of society. Policemen do not organize as garment workers may do, and firemen do not act collectively as carpenters do, or, if they act collectively, it is by totally different methods.

The services in which the individual puts the welfare of the community above himself, either by tradition or by taking oath, do not include all the services without which society could not exist. A general railroad strike is a legal possibility. It would not be an endurable fact. We believe that people rationally can make adjustments. The railroad workers assert their right to strike, but they do not create the extreme situation. Society knows it could not endure railroad suspension, but it is not attacking violently the principle of the right to strike when it is not forced to do so. The necessary transition can be made gradually in moderation without the upheaval which the pushing of logic to extremes would cause.

People recognize that as men give up individual liberties of action the responsibilities of the people at large towards them are increased. The railroads themselves, as private properties, are also impressed in public service as common carriers. They cannot be managed as ordinary private properties are managed. They cannot suspend service. As common carriers they must give adequate and reasonable service. They can be administered for the public by receivers and the receivers' certificates are the first claims against their resources.

The public regulation of these private properties is tending towards adjustments which will make the settlement of issues between employer and employé and the public a government decision, both as to what the railroad shall charge and what it shall pay. The government says how the railroad shall serve the public and how the employé shall serve it.

This makes it rational for the worker to regard himself pledged to public service. He is not dealing with an employer in a conflict over profits and wages but with the government, presumably interested only in general justice.

We work the scheme awkwardly by giving one body the jurisdiction over wages and another the jurisdiction over rates when the two are interdependent, but that can be remedied. The farmer, the producer, the transportation worker, and the consumer are directly related to each other. What they do and what they get affect each other and the railroad property is merely an intermediary which cannot get a knock without sending it on somewhere.

CRIME AND RURAL POLICE.

Three Chicago gunmen robbed a Waukegan roadhouse of $150 and escaped, after a running gun fight with farmer posses for more than ten miles. That is a simple tale with a logical conclusion.

The three men presumably needed the money. They had guns, probably obtained without difficulty, through a mail order house. They had an automobile, very likely stolen. They had good roads, provided by the state. The woman proprietor of the roadhouse had $150. The robbers presented their guns, got the $150, and, by using their fast motor car and the good roads, escaped. Farmers, hastily summoned, unorganized and poorly armed and equipped, were helpless to halt them.

State police could have accomplished without difficulty what the farmers risked their lives in vain to do. The telephone call which roused the farmers would have put a cordon of fully trained, armed and equipped men across every good highway within ten miles of the scene of the crime within a few minutes, if we had had a state highway police organization. There can be no doubt that they would have captured or killed the bandits.

It is only an incident in the record of rural crime, but it emphasizes once again the ease with which criminals in fast automobiles, with good roads open to them, can accomplish crimes against rural citizens, and escape. A state police organization offers a logical method of stopping such crimes. The farmer who failed to check this one should realize that he may be the next victim, as he might have been the last. They should unite with the cities into which such criminals flee to check their depredations through establishment of capable policemen along our highways.

LUMBER ON THE FREE LIST.

Occasionally tariff bills reveal something of more importance to the country than the influence of producers seeking protection for their industry. Such a revelation is contained in the lumber schedule of the McCumber bill. It places almost all grades of lumber on the free list, including shingles, logs, certain kinds of heavy timbers, railroad ties, telegraph poles, pickets, palings and hoops, which are subject to duty under the Fordney bill. It even includes ordinary finished lumber in the free list, with a special provision for reciprocity.

That is important in itself, because of its bearing upon the cost of building, of which the country is still in great need. It is even more important as revealing realization in the United States senate that this country is rapidly nearing the end in its own lumber resources. The senators who realize this and who would guard against it by opening our doors to the free importation of lumber are thereby on record in favor of a practical method of conservation of a most important natural resource. They should have little trouble in convincing the house conferees that the latter should agree to the change in the Fordney bill.

And having thus proved themselves appreciative of the needs of the country in this matter, we may hope they will carry the policy with reference to our lumber situation still further. We are greatly in need of encouragement of conservation of our standing timber, and likewise of reforestation. It has been estimated that if the present rate of cutting should continue without reforestation we will be at the end of our lumber resources within a generation. We have vast areas of land suitable for forestation, and there are still considerable tracts of timber which can be reforested at the same time they are being cut. Both these activities should be encouraged.

We already have laws looking to such encouragement, and more definite legislation is pending in congress. The senators who have revealed their realization of the situation by adopting this schedule of the tariff bill should constitute themselves leaders in putting through the other constructive legislation.

FOREIGN SOCIETY RUNS CONGRESS.

The bill to preserve the citizenship of American women who marry aliens, and to allow alien women the right of naturalization regardless of their marital ties, has been reported favorably by the senate immigration committee. The action offers an interesting illustration of the potential influence of social ambition upon American legislation.

Under it the Princess Cantacuzene could speak and write to her American sisters of "we Russians," for the benefit of the Russians, while exercising the privileges of American citizenship to promote the work in which she is most interested. Or the Princess Anastasia could continue to enjoy the privilege of American citizenship, speaking of "we Americans," while spending the Leeds millions for the glory of Greece. In either case the great benefit would be to a foreign country, the personal advantage to an individual voluntarily expatriated, and no profit whatever to the nation which conferred the privilege.

Such legislation is the natural result of the judicious entertaining of the wives of senators at dinner and wives of congressmen, socially less important, at some general function.

Our solons are sometimes demagogues, but always snobs.

SOME HOPE FOR GERMANY.

There may be small comfort for collapsing Germany in statistics, but there is a basis for thought. The figures on exports and imports would seem to indicate that the present German panic is to some extent psychological. If that is true there is ground for hope that it may be checked.

Hamburg, the great German seaport, recently reported that arrivals and departures of ocean shipping in the first seven months of this year totaled 14,500,000 tons, or only 2,000,000 tons less than in the year before the war. That would seem to us to be comforting, whether it is so to the Germans or not.

And at the same time the United States shipping board announces that the volume of our overseas trade [excepting oil] for the first six months of this year, including exports and imports, was 22,000,000 tons.

Such figures may afford cold comfort, but in their light we may reasonably hope that the conference now going on between Stinnes, Voegeler, Kirdors, and Thyssen, Germany's four richest men, may be able to find a way out of impending disaster for Germany.

Editorial of the Day

GREATER RESPONSIBILITY.

[Free translation from Svenska Amerikanaren.]

When the English judge pronounced sentence on the member of parliament, Horatio Bottomley, he said: "You have been duly found guilt of repeated heartless frauds. These poor people placed confidence in you, and this confidence you have betrayed. Your crime is made worse by the fact that your victims were poor. It is also increased by the fact that you were standing so highly. I cannot find any alleviating circumstances in your case."

These were timely words, because it has happened only too often that what this judge found to be aggravating circumstances is looked on as extenuating the guilt.

Not so many years have passed since a man was killed by a mob here in Chicago for having in drunkenness knocked down a cripple who was walking on crutches. Why did this mob become so frantic? Because the cripple was considered as helpless. It is not fair play to fall on a weaker person—one who for some reason cannot defend himself.

Why is not a case of fraud looked at from the same point of view when perpetrated on a poor man? And why is not a crime looked upon as having been committed under aggravating circumstances if the criminal, through education and position in life, should have come to know better? If a janitor for bribery is sentenced to six months in jail, should not, for instance, a congressman who is guilty of the same offense be sent to prison for six years?

BEAVERS HAVE NO SENSE OF HUMOR.

Sir: In the days gone by old Ben Skinner lived out of town. He had an undershot jaw augmented by undershot whiskers and Ben was generally conceded to be a rough playmate. He was peddling apples from his farm wagon when the writer gave the usual greeting as the game was played at that period, to-wit, "Ba-a-a-a-h-h-h!" immediately followed by a sibilant whistle denoting a brisk wind among the corn tassels. Ben joined in the game so impetuously that your deponent was a scant six jumps in the lead as we all started south, but at the hundred yard mark this lead had increased considerably through a natural desire to be elsewhere. With home and mother in sight it looked like easy winning when Ben, contrary to the rules of the London game, beaned said deponent with a large, fat rock just as he turned to emit a final and triumphant "Ba-a-h-h-h!" Deponent further states, to present effete dabblers, that it was a red-blooded game in those days. CHIGGERS.

UNKNOWN HUMAN RACE.

A MAN shuffles into the office. He is fat and big. His cheeks are full and rosy. His hair is curly. He has no beard. Though forty years of age, he has never shaved, or, if he has the habit, it is because it is the habit of men rather than because of need.

He looks greasy and dirty. His clothes are not clean. At the same time, he is not ragged nor filthy nor offensive.

He oozes apologetically into a chair. He wants a loan, he says. He means he wants charity. "How much?" "A quarter. Is that too much? Can you spare it? It isn't going to embarrass you, is it?"

Funny sort of a beggar!

Now, let's go back a little. He comes with a letter of introduction. That is his method of approach. He is of a good family. His brother is an able physician in the east. His sister is a research worker in an institution for research known the world around.

I verify these statements. I meet the sister. She is a learned woman as well as a refined woman. She tells the story of her brother's life. Always a wanderer. Took some education and then joined the tramps. A petty beggar. Always apologetic. Never takes more than a quarter. As harmless as a child. Would do no physical harm. Would not hurt any one's feelings. Tenderly sympathetic within limitations. Will not accept responsibility. Will not work. But has energy enough to get all over the country.

She and her brother are grateful to the good people who, at times, have helped her brother out. She hopes they have not given him more than they could afford. That they have not embarrassed themselves in providing for him.

Do you catch the point? The same inferiority complex the brother had, but not developed to the point of a disease in the sister.

Again, note this: The sister had mental ability much above the ordinary, but it had not gotten her far because there was wanting the same something that was wanting to a greater degree in the brother.

My guess diagnosis: Quite possibly a moron, that is to say, feeble-minded. On the other hand, quite possibly not a moron. His trouble lay not with his mental capacity, but with his drive. The obesity, the cherub face, the curly locks, the lack of initiative, the lack of drive, the unselfishness of a sort. My guess diagnosis—deficiency of pituitary.

Six months later the man is taken sick. His illness is severe. He is taken to the county hospital. The doctors see beyond the immediate illness. They study his personality, character, behavior, mental makeup and his physical peculiarities. They come to the conclusion that there is abnormality of his pituitary.

They make x-ray pictures of his skull. These show abnormalities in the size of the nest in which the pituitary rests.

SUE FOR DIVORCE AFTER TWO YEARS FOR DESERTION.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—My husband deserted me six months ago and has not since sent me money for support. How long must I wait before I can sue for divorce on the grounds of desertion or nonsupport? L. R.

If your only ground for divorce is desertion and nonsupport you will have to wait two years. If you wish to compel him to support you, take the matter up with one of the assistants in the Court of Domestic Relations in the city hall.

PROHIBITED BOOK.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I have an unabridged copy of Boccaccio's Decameron in storage in another state. As I wish to bring it here with other books with which it is packed, I would like to know if it is illegal for me to have it expressed with the other books. Must I go there, unpack these books and bring the Decameron book in my suitcase? R. B.

It does not seem likely that any action will be taken against you. The decision to which you refer was rendered against a dealer in an effort to prevent business traffic in such books.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Are unnaturalized Englishmen classed as "aliens" in this country? R. L. P.

1. Yes, all persons are either citizens or aliens.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am the holder of a judgment note. The maker has since gone through bankruptcy. Will this make the note void, or can I sue or garnishee salary on the same note? F. B.

1. Depends on whether you were to blame for the accident, on his reason for refusal, etc.

3. Through what states would you pass in following an air line from New York City to Chicago? New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

4. Who stopped the Moslem invasion of Europe in 732 A. D.? Charles Martel in the battle of Poitiers.

5. What is the meaning of the Latin phrase "hic jacet"? "Here lies," often used on tombstones.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY IN THE TRIBUNE (FACSIMILES).

Bessemer, the great steel-manufacturer, is about to make a cannon twenty yards long. The diameter will be forty-eight inches, and the bore thirty inches. It is expected to discharge a shell weighing five tons. In order to give sufficient impetus to this monster projectile, the load of powder will be placed in five different chambers. The explosion of the first will start the shell, and, as it flashes along the barrel, the other four will be fired successively, each of them giving it fresh force. If the plan proves feasible, the defences of the world, on land and sea, will be useless. A five-ton shell would dismantle any fort, except, perhaps, Gibraltar, and would sink any iron-clad afloat.

—In Philadelphia, on the 4th inst., there was a grand Israelitish marriage, at the Synagogue Rodef-Sholem, the parties to the ceremony being Mr. Leon Klein, a wealthy merchant of Chicago, and Miss Annie Schloss, daughter of Mr. H. B. Schloss, a prominent merchant of Philadelphia. After the ceremony, a banquet was given at the house of the bride's parents, at which there were present 140 invited guests.

The Strike of the Coal Miners.
Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

LASALLE, Sept. 3.—The strike of the coal miners of this city and of the Illinois Valley and Kenosha mines still continues. Colonel Taylor, President of the Northern Illinois Coal and Iron Company, whose mines are situated in this city, has offered to advance the miners' wages from 90 cents to $1.05 a ton, but, as yet, there is no assurance that the offer will be accepted.

HOW CANADA AVOIDS RAIL STRIKES.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—I have been in the "states" several weeks on business and am leaving for home in Winnipeg, Man., tonight. I have been reading about your coal and railroads strikes and am surprised to see this great country suffering such trouble and no one among your people seems to be able to settle the strike or suggest a remedy. Allow me to inform you that we never have strikes on our transportation lines in Canada because we have a law that prevents them. Our law provides that all differences by both sides must be arbitrated for a period of one year before a strike can be called, but before the year has elapsed both sides have ample time to cool off and to reach an agreement. If either party violates the law they are liable to arrest, fine and imprisonment, but they never have violated it. And it has been enacted these many years.

I recall that President Woodrow Wilson tried to have your congress pass this law, but they refused him.

The best part of this law is that it gives first consideration to the interest of the public, which should always be the case in such matters.
GEORGE W. LANCASTER.

A LITTLE POISON IN DEMPSEY'S DIET.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Fullerton's articles in THE TRIBUNE extolling the diet of "Shipyard Slacker" Jack Dempsey is an insult to Americans generally and to fighting men in particular.

Dempsey used every method possible to avoid military service. He moved heaven and earth to achieve the reputation of being a slacker and not a fighting man in the world war. Too bad he did not accept the opportunity to train upon the good wholesome "chow" of the American soldier. Abiff, "Shipyard Slacker," shove off and make room for real American fighting men.

Dempsey's private life, as shown by the evidence introduced at his trial in San Francisco as a slacker, is as worthless and cowardly as his military life. He is not the character to parade before the youth of the land as a national hero, as your recent editorial indicated.

Don't you think it is time that Dempsey was properly branded and his name dropped from the columns of your own and all decent newspapers?

WANTED: A BOULEVARD STOP SIGN.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—How many more deaths, not speaking of innumerable accidents, must we have before the south park board, our department of public safety, or our motor clubs wake up and take steps necessary to properly designate a boulevard stop at the most neglected crossing in the city—namely: Marquette boulevard and Cottage Grove avenue?

The writer thought surely that following last Thursday's double death the south park commissioners would try to adopt some intelligent means of warning motorists that this important intersection was a boulevard stop. To this writing, however, no such action has been taken.

FOR STATE, NOT FEDERAL ACT[ION].

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31.—Press [dis]patches declare that the imprisoned [min]ers in a western gold mine are wi[thout] food or water.

As a former sailor in the United S[tates] navy I know something of naval [regu]lations. It is an absolute rule that [every] lifeboat must be equipped with a [supply] of fresh water and a certain amount [of] concentrated food, such as chocolate [and] hardtack. Why would it not be a [good] thing for congress to pass some leg[isla]tion making it compulsory for the [mine] owners to equip each shaft of [the mine] with a certain amount of food and wa[ter,] the amount depending on the number [of] men employed in that particular sh[aft.] Then if the men were imprisoned [they] would at least have food and wa[ter to] sustain their morale and make it p[ossi]ble for them to assist rescuers fro[m the] outside by digging their way o[ut from] the inside. REACTION TO THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE PRESS.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Some days ago [I read] a translated editorial appearing in TH[E] TRIBUNE from an Italian periodical [in which we] were informed that the Italian peo[ple] as a whole are law-abiding citizens [...] In reading many of the accounts of [mur]ders by Italians in "Little Italy" a[nd] other localities in Chicago we are g[iven] to understand that the laws [...] sanction such acts and that the circum[]stances surrounding many of these [as]sassinations justify murder.

There are too many unlettered [...] tutored foreigners coming [to] [these] shores who cannot divorce the old [world] laws and usages and accept those of [this] country. We are inclined to [...] the above mentioned editorial as [refer]ring to Italians in Italy and not [...] in America. A. S. [...]

A PLEA FOR MODERATION.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—What a decade[nt age] we are with our books that reek o[f the] rankest sensuality, art of the Sep[tember] Morn school, displays upon the sta[ge of] nude and semi-nude women at [the] slightest provocation, camisole [...] pink slip movies, and the dress of [the] fairer sex which is now not far [...] from undress.

Now we want our books to have [more] pep than Sunday school stories; we [want] our women on the stage and in real [life] dressed, but not to the point of suffoca[]tion; we want dances that show [more] speed than the waltz and two-step; [we] want smart songs without vulgarity; [we] don't want our ladies to be languid, [but]terless lilies, nor do we want [...] to make us blue and thirsty, but [...] we moderns do want is moderation [in] most of our ways. SEND THE LAW BREAKING AL[IENS] BACK HOME.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 31.—Large [numbers] of the law breakers in this country [are] aliens. Now is a good time to send th[ese] ungrateful guests back home. The [state] and city authorities should give [the] names of these offending aliens to [the] United States government.

After a fair and speedy trial these [un]desirables should be taken back to [the] lands of their birth. The publishing [of] such a policy, plus speedy action to [fol]low, would, we believe, have a [whole]some effect just at this time. AUSTRIA TO PLAY 'LAST CARD' WITH WORLD LEAGUE

Premier Goes to Geneva to Plead for Help.

BY OTIS SWIFT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

VIENNA, Sept. 3.—Chancellor Seipel left unexpectedly tonight for Geneva to present personally the Austrian case before the league of nations' assembly and urge immediate and definite action.

THE TRIBUNE learns that Chancellor Seipel's presence at Geneva was requested by allied officials. It is understood he will state Austria's case in strong terms, declaring that unless aid is forthcoming no government in Austria can guarantee what developments may ensue this winter.

Before leaving, Chancellor Seipel spent the day in conferences with officials, industrialists, and business men, who urged the necessity of immediate action to end financial chaos. The French and Italian ambassadors conferred with the premier.

Austria's "Last Card."

The Austrian attitude is that the league must make an official decision, the premier declaring that "the league is our last card." If immediate aid by the league is refused, almost any development is possible from the present situation. It might also be said that the Austrian problem is the card of the league of nations, for unless the league finds a way out of the disaster which threatens not only Austria but all of mid-Europe through the Austrian collapse, it will be thoroughly discredited in the eyes of the world.

The press blames England and France for the destruction of the fabric of the republic, and asserts that Austria's enemies still desire to crush her.

A Step Toward Prohibition.

And now the shadow of "Pussyfoot" Johnson has fallen across the land. The government issued today a decree which the newspapers assert is the first step toward prohibition—namely: an early closing law whereby restaurants are forbidden to sell alcoholic drinks after 10 o'clock p. m., and the bars after midnight.

To a country where the prewar closing time was universally daybreak this is tantamount to a bone dry law. The law is not applicable in Vienna, however, but applies throughout the rest of the republic.

It is declared here that the food shortage, general distress and despondency has caused a big increase in drinking and it is believed the step is taken to curb intoxication. The law forbids serving liquor to any one in a drunken state and provides for the annulment of the licenses of those who fail to comply with the regulation.

A further dampener will hit nighthawks tomorrow when taxi fares will be increased to 9,000 times what the meter reads. The fare now is only 5,000 times the meter rate.

Pessimists assert that suicide is no escape, as the undertakers have raised the price of funerals to 1,000,000 kronen, while the cemeteries charge 215,000 kronen per grave.

Czechs May Aid Bank.

Reports from Prague state that Czecho-Slovakian bankers are conferring with Austrian financiers and may participate in capitalization of the proposed state bank.

Italy's announcement that she will give 20,000,000 lire of a 70,000,000 lire credit toward the bank and the agreement of the English banks to enter the project resulted in the strengthening of the kronen.

GREEKS HALT RETREAT

1—The magnitude of the Grecian defeat grows greater as the fighting progresses, reports say. The Turks in the Afium Kara Hissar sector have scored a telling victory. The Greeks have abandoned Ushak and are falling back on the Smyrna zone itself, 115 miles to the rear.

2—The Turkish flanking movement from the north also appears to have been successful. There is severe fighting in the regions of Sunav and Gediz, with the Turks attempting to cut off the Greeks from Smyrna.

3—The Greeks are reported to be rallying at Philadelphia, on the border of the Smyrna zone.

tonight worked out many headaches over the following dispatch filed at Constantinople early this morning:

"Dixie Blackboot traveling home hunting northern brother though family scattered. Left town owing 3,000 liras, believed other debts. May make reunion Quakerstown. Debts contracted through unsuccessful speculation two days against rising pound. Recommend peartree gamble on movements signed Soltonne."

THE TRIBUNE code experts interpreted "Dixie Blackboot" to mean the southern Greek army, though Blackboot is puzzling. "Traveling home" probably means retreating toward Smyrna. "Hunting northern brother" means trying to make contact with the northern Greek army. "Family scattered," means the army is in confusion.

Lost 3,000 Prisoners.

"Left town owing 3,000 liras," means "given up the front line and lost 3,000 prisoners." "Other debts" means "further losses." "Reunion in Quakertown" means "the armies are joining in Philadelphia," now known as Ala-Shehr, which is eighty-two miles east of Smyrna. "Unsuccessful speculation" means "unsuccessful combats." "Rising pround," referring to the Turkish pound," means "increasing momentum of the Turks." "Recommend Peartree" means "recommend Piertrib play the story."

THE TRIBUNE coders believe that the financial terms were used simply to give the message aspect of a financial transaction.

MERCURY DROPS 20 DEGREES; ONE MORE HEAT DEATH

The thermometer called off its record breaking career yesterday, and came back upon the road to September normalcy. At 4 o'clock, the official reading was 76 degrees, cooler by more than twenty points than on Saturday.

Despite the drop in temperature one death and another serious heat prostration were reported to police.

William Armitage, 74 years old, of 1515 East 67th place, dropped dead in his home of heart disease superinduced by heat.

To clear your skin

If your skin is red, rough, blotchy and clogged with dust and oil,—don't pinch it and press it. That increases the irritation and sometimes causes infection, should the sensitive skin become bruised by the finger nails.

The use of Resinol Soap and Ointment is a very simple and pleasant way to overcome this condition. It can usually be relied upon for prompt and satisfactory results even in severe, stubborn cases.

Full directions for this treatment accompany every package of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. You will also find there detailed instructions on the care of the hair,—why Resinol Soap is ideal for baby's skin,—why it should be adopted for the daily bath.

OREGON PLANS LAWS TO SATISFY U. S. DEMANDS

BY J. H. CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—In an interview with President Obregon today he said recognition of Mexico by the United States now depended on factors largely outside of Mexican politics.

Numerous rocks already are out of the way of recognition, he said, among them an arrangement for the payment of the national debt, improvements in economic conditions, increased support of recognition by numerous nations, better moral standing of Mexico in the eyes of the world, increased belief in the good faith of the Mexican government, settlement of the oil question, and gradual strengthening of the hands of the government. These naturally point more or less to an early getting together of the two interested governments.

Scoffs at Murguia's Revolt.

When asked his opinion of the new congress President Obregon said it appeared in every way more favorable than that of last year. It had already shown more ability to get down to work. It had its preliminary work practically done and would be able to attend to legislation during the first days of the coming week when the agreement of De La Huerta and the New York bankers will be presented for ratification. He said the present congress apparently is steadier and less excitable than last year's, implying that it has better working qualities.

Speaking of Gen. Murguia's revolution in the north, he said the conditions are very unfavorable for the revolt to succeed.

Will Meet U. S. Requirements.

When asked about Articles 123 and 27 of the constitution of Queretaro, the property ownership sections, he said new regulations under them will be presented to congress for action. As the articles would not be stricken out of the constitution but simply readjusted, congress would be empowered to do this without the customary two-thirds majority vote of the states for constitutional changes.

Speaking of the oil question, he said the government would not and could not show preference except to powerful capitalized companies capable of working the properties properly, and for all future oil concessions the government would exact guarantees to prevent manipulation by adventurers and promoters.

LA FOLLETTE AND BEER WISCONSIN ISSUES TUESDAY

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Political organizations in every county of Wisconsin are making final efforts to get out a big vote at next Tuesday's primary election.

The result of Tuesday's vote will determine nominees for United States senator, congressmen, and candidates on the state tickets. While a number of candidates have no opposition, the primary election law requirements provide that candidates seeking office shall receive at least 10 per cent of the party vote cast at the preceding general election to have their names printed on the ballot at the coming election in November.

MEN TEACHERS

At YMCA Prep School

One of the big reasons why a boy progresses rapidly at YMCA Prep School is because his teachers are men who understand boys. Small classes insure each student's getting individual attention. Supervised "gym" work and swimming develop a boy physically without overtaxing his strength. Character-building features instill the high moral qualities every mother wants her boy to have.

A Private School

By sending your boy to YMCA Prep School you give him all the advantages of a high class private school without depriving him of his home influence and without depriving yourself of his companionship. This school is not maintained for profit, and so its tuition charge is low. Fully accredited High School course can be completed in three years by attending classes eleven months in the year.

Two base hits—O'Farrell, Friberg. Three base hits—Tierney, O'Farrell. Home run—Bigbee. Struck out—Alexander, 5; Hamilton, 6. Bases on balls—Hamilton, 2. Time—2:10. Umpires—Quigley and Moran.

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Carson Bigbee's home run with Max Carey on second in the eleventh inning gave the Pirates a 2 to 0 victory over the skidding Cubs yesterday in one of the hardest fought battles played on the north side this season. It was a fight from start to finish, and for ten rounds was a great hurling duel between Grover Alexander and Earl Hamilton. The defeat brought the Pirates into second place and shoved the Bears down the ladder into a third place tie with the Cards.

Both Alexander and Hamilton hurled wonderful ball in the first ten innings and were afforded glittering support. It was a low curve ball outside that Bigbee lifted over the right field fence in the eleventh for the victory. The Bears had a chance to win in the tenth, but bad work on the bases by Bobby O'Farrell cost a possible victory.

Grover Strong in Pinches.

Alex was hit harder than Hamilton, but was strong in the pinches. Two runs were cut down at the plate by the Bears, Krug nipping Tierney with a quick throw to O'Farrell in the second and Friberg making a perfect toss from right to nab the same Tierney in the seventh. Ten hits were the gleanings the Pirates took off Alex, Tierney leading with three, including a triple. Besides his home run, Bigbee beat out a bunt and Grimm got two singles.

O'Farrell led the Cub swatting with a double and triple. It was Bobby's triple in the tenth that nearly won the ball game. With one out he sent a long drive to center over Carey's head and pulled up at third. Then came Alex, who, after fouling off seven balls, slapped one down the third base line to Traynor, who made a one handed stab and caught O'Farrell off the base. It is doubtful if Traynor could have thrown Alex out at first. Statz followed Alex's blow with a single to center, on which O'Farrell could have walked home, but Hollocher ended the inning by flying out.

Corsairs Win with Two Out.

The two winning runs in the Pirate eleventh were scored after Maranville and Hamilton were out. Carey singled off Alexander's gloved hand and stole second. Then came Bigbee's home run. Three Cubs went out in order in their eleventh.

Brilliant support was afforded Alex by Hollocher, Krug, and Grimes. For the Pirates, Rabbit Maranville and Traynor stepped all over the infield, while Max Carey showed the fans some speed in the gardens.

More than 18,000 turned out for the show, which is the last of the week at home for the Bears, who left last night for Cincinnati.

GIANTS TRIUMPH, 8-7, OVER PHILS ON RING'S ERROR

New York, Sept. 3.—The Giants won a ragged game from Philadelphia, 8 to 7, here today when Ring dropped a throw from Leslie at first base for what would have been the third out. Frisch scored from second with the winning run.

Young, Bancroft, Groh, and Kelly collaborated to perform a triple play in the second when Lee and Leslie began running wild on the bases, after Umpire Klem had called Smith out on an infield fly which Young finally handled. Score:

PLAY THAT MADE THE GAME GO EXTRA INNINGS

Bernie Friberg's perfect throw from right field cut off a Pirate run in the seventh inning yesterday. With Tierney on second and Grimm on first, Gooch shot a single to right and Tierney tried to score, but Friberg scooped up the ball and threw to O'Farrell, who dived in just in time to tag Tierney out.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—George Uhle, the Indians' ex-sandlotter, today atoned for what the White Sox have done to him during the past couple of seasons. Backed by splendid support he held the Chicagoans to six hits and smeared them with whitewash by 5 to 0, the entire proceedings being clicked off in the rapid time of 1 hour and 16 minutes.

The Indians sewed up the affair by a violent assault on young Ted Blankenship in the third inning. Ernie Johnson was partially responsible because of a fumble on a grounder that he was anxious to convert into a double play.

Strunk Pulls a Boner.

Uhle who ordinarily is made to order for Gleason's batters was so good on this occasion that for four innings the Sox didn't even get a man to first base. Then they waxed boisterous in the fifth and collected three hits but didn't score because Strunk, who thought Sheely had gone home on a single by Schalk, raced to third only to find the big first sacker camping there. That mixup ended the inning.

Two more Sox hits were turned loose in the seventh, but the next three batters slammed fly balls. The only visitor to trespass as far as first after this was Schalk, who singled to open the eighth.

Indians Start in Third.

Blankenship started skidding in the third when he handed a pass to Uhle after one was gone. Jamieson then singled to center. Wamby grounded to short, and this was the one Johnson booted, filling the bases. Connolly produced a lucky double over Sheely's head, sending Uhle and Jamieson home. Then Gardner cracked the right field wall for two bases, scoring Wamby and Connolly.

Blankenship was still wabbly in the fourth, which opened with singles by McInnis and O'Neill. Uhle flied out and when Jamieson singled to score McInnis, the Sox rookie was yanked and Courtney went forth. He stopped the Indians for the rest of the afternoon, but he had arrived too late.

Beloit took a tighter hold on first place in the Midwest association by defeating the Pyotts, 5 to 2, yesterday at Pyott field. Dave Davenport was the stumbling block for the Pyotts. He dished up a four hit article of twirling, and was backed by perfect support. Hank Butcher was the only Pyott player that could solve Dave's offerings, cracking out two doubles, both helping in the scoring of the Pyott's two runs. Score:

...KERS AWAIT GUN TODAY IN TRIBUNE DERBY

FACTS ABOUT DERBY

PLACE—Humboldt park, at Kosciuszko monument, Humboldt boulevard, south of North avenue.

Time—9 a. m., daylight saving time.

Number of races—Ten.

Prizes—Over $1,000 in merchandise certificates.

Feature—22 mile handicap, 124 starters.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

When scratch riders in the twenty-two mile handicap, feature of the first annual bicycle derby of THE TRIBUNE, to be held in Humboldt park this morning, starting at 9 o'clock, are sent away, August Benson of the Merry Gardens A. C. is determined to set a pace which will leave Walter Witzke and Edmund Kokat of the Alverno A. A., Al Hartung of Milwaukee and Jules Arens of the Belgian-American C. C. far behind.

AUGUST BENSON.

Benson believes he is the best unpaced amateur bike racer in Illinois, and is bent on driving his claim home this morning. He does not pretend to be as good a sprint rider as his opponents who will race from his scratch, but he maintains he is superior over the longer distance.

Ready for Grueling Grind.

Although Benson has hopes of distancing the other scratch riders, Witzke, Kokat, Hartung, and Arens can be depended upon to be right at his rear wheel. They have known for some time that Benson wants to make a runaway race of it, and have been trained secretly to go the twenty-two miles at just as fast, if not a faster, clip than Benson.

With this feeling existing among the scratch riders the handicap racers will have to ride from the starting gun. The limit men have received five minute allowances, and it will take the best speed the scratch riders can produce to overtake them in the five circuits of the four and two-fifths mile course.

124 Riders in Handicap.

One hundred and twenty-four riders will start in the handicap. They will be sent away by Starter Julian T. Fitzgerald, western representative of the Amateur Bicycle League of America. Arthur Gardiner, one of the greatest riders of his day, will be referee and will settle all disputes.

In addition to the twenty-two mile handicap there will be two other races for class B and C racers. Each race will be held over an eight and four-fifths mile course. In these events the first five to finish will receive merchandise certificates.

Boys and girls who have won Ranger bicycles through TRIBUNE subscription contests are ready for their events, which will be decided between the open races. Contestants must ride and own their own bikes, which cannot be stripped to make them lighter. Winners of first, second, and third places will be rewarded with merchandise checks.

First Event at 9 O'Clock.

The first event, a race for boys under 12 years who have won Ranger bicycles, will start promptly at 9 o'clock.

Contestants must report at Kosciuszko monument, Humboldt boulevard south of North avenue, at 8 o'clock for their numbers and be checked in. Officials are requested to report half an hour later.

FIEGLER WINS MILE RACE

Red Fiegler of Alverno A. A. yesterday won the one mile Cook county championship, feature of the bicycle races held at Palatine. Walter Witzke was second and Cook third. The winner's time was 2:19. Witzke captured the three mile open and August Benson failed to beat the radio horse in a special one mile race. All riders will take part in THE TRIBUNE derby today. The races were conducted by W. T. Farwell.

3 RUTH HOMERS IN THIS GAME

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 3.—Babe Ruth made three successive home runs in an exhibition game this afternoon with the 3d corps army area team. The Yankees won, 12 to 3. The army nine is coached by Buck Herzog, former major league star.

Famous Chicagos Down American Giants, 3 to 2

A triple by Ray Demmitt sent Vic Saier over with the winning run of a ten inning game which Famous Chicagos won from the American Giants, 3 to 2, at Schorling's park yesterday. Dick Kerr held the colored champions to four hits. Grant's double counted Reese with the tying run in the ninth.

THE GUMPS—MAKING UP FOR THE PART

DEMPSEY, MOORE AND LYNCH TO MIX TODAY

BEST MOTOR ROUTE

IN order to relieve congestion on the highways to Michigan City today for the benefit of boxing fans attending the Labor day bouts, the following alternative routes are suggested by the Chicago Motor club:

Route from Michigan City to East Gary has been marked by the club—a black X on yellow band marked on telegraph posts. Part of the new Dunes highway is available by leaving Chicago Motor club route X at crossroad [second turn out of Chesterton] and keeping north, turning east before railroad at Furnaceville, then crossing track and following narrow road running into new concrete coming into Michigan City on 10th street.

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 3.—Jack Dempsey, white heavyweight champion, Joe Lynch, kingpin of the bantamweights, who will defend his title against Pal Moore of Chicago, and principals in other contests are fit and ready for the boxing show to be conducted by Floyd Fitzsimmons in his pine bowl here tomorrow afternoon. The show will open at 3 o'clock, standard time.

JIMMY CLABBY.

Although Moore and Lynch are expected to furnish plenty of excitement, numbers of fans will make the trip to the city of the dunes to see Dempsey go through his exhibition with five sparring partners. Jack has agreed to take on each opponent for two rounds of three minutes each and promises action aplenty.

The bout between Dempsey and Jack Thompson should prove the most attractive of the five exhibitions. Thompson is a powerfully built colored boxer who can take punishment. He is expected to take all that Jack can hand out in the two sessions. In addition Thompson can hit and will be told to cut loose with everything he knows. It will not be surprising if some of Dempsey's partners are sent down for the count.

Change of Title Unlikely.

While there is a bare possibility the bantamweight title may change hands it is generally conceded that Lynch and Moore will be on their feet when the bell rings for the end of the last round. Moore cannot hit hard enough to win by the K. O. route, but may slap the champion around enough to win the popular decision.

Demand for tickets shows Hammond is all worked up over the Jimmy Clabby-Jimmy Darcy contest. A few years ago Clabby, who hails from Hammond, was considered one of the strongest contenders for the middleweight title and his friends will be seated around the ringside in large numbers. Darcy hails from Portland, Ore., and claims the middleweight championship of the Pacific coast.

O'Keefe Attracts Big Following.

Dennis O'Keefe, who meets Billy Wells, European welterweight champion, will attract many fans from South Chicago where he is a big favorite.

Harold Smith and Champ Ross, Chicago bantamweights who open the show in an eight round contest, are due in town tomorrow. Each has a large Windy City following, which is expected to swell the attendance.

Excellent accommodations can be secured out of Chicago over the Michigan Central and South Shore electric while the morning Michigan City boat of the Graham & Morton line will arrive in plenty of time for the show.

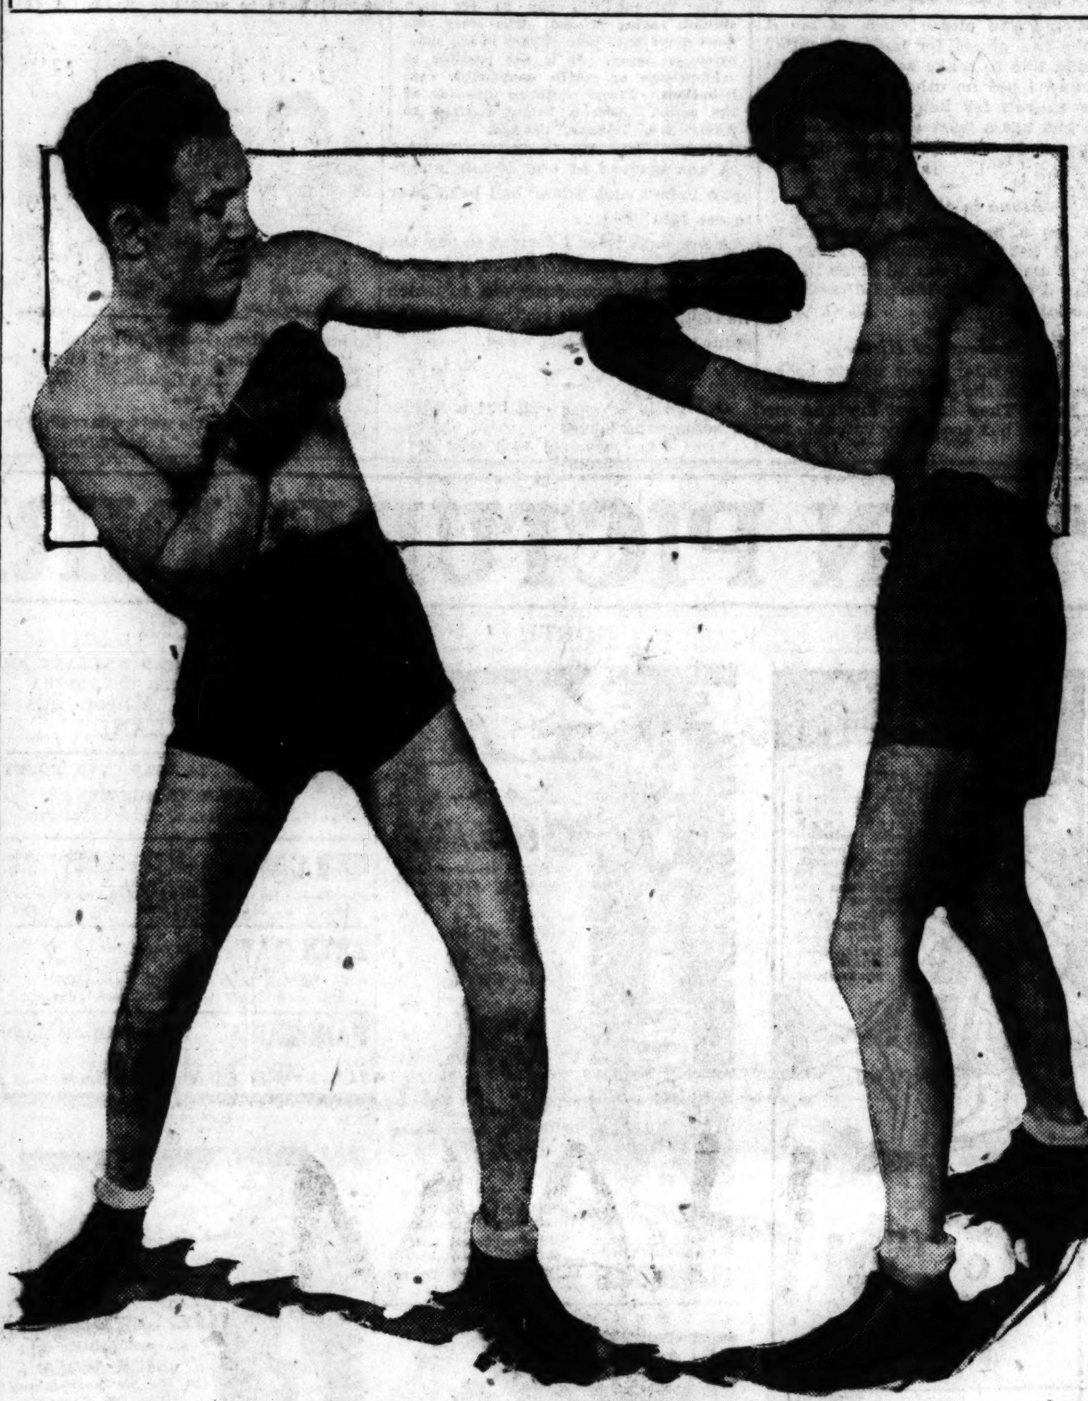
CLASH IN BANTAM TITLE MATCH



The world's bantamweight title will be at stake at Michigan City today when Joe Lynch, champion, and Pal Moore, challenger, clash. Pal must floor Joe for the full count or win on a foul to take the crown.

Jack Dempsey Faster and Harder Hitter on Attack Than Challenger Harry Wills

BY HUGH FULLERTON.
ARTICLE II.

Jack Dempsey is the fastest big man I ever have seen. In some respects Jim Corbett, when at his best, was faster on his feet. Corbett, especially just prior to his fight with Jeffries at Coney Island, was declared to be the fastest heavyweight the world ever has known. Tommy Ryan, whose speed of eye and hand ranked him as the fastest man in that regard in ring history, told me that Corbett was as fast with his hands and as fast to see an opening and to shove a glove through it as any heavyweight he ever saw.

Dempsey's speed of eye and hand is even greater, yet queerly enough his speed is deceptive. The spectator watching him box, gets the idea of slowness. The truth is that Dempsey wastes less motion than any boxer in history. He bores in steadily, weaving forward with an odd shifting motion of hand and body, and finishes fast as a streak. He wastes few blows. But when he is ready to launch a blow he drives it like a streak of lightning.

Jack Has Most Speed.

I studied Dempsey in fights, in the gymnasium, in private, watching his movements, and then turned to Wills to see how they compare. Wills wastes a tremendous lot of power and motion. He does not compare with Dempsey in speed of foot, does not shift as quickly and he takes much more time in launching his drives—at least the ones that do harm. His fastest blow seems to be a ripping left to the body, which he shoots out unexpectedly. He almost murdered poor Tut Jackson with that blow, and not because of his own timing of his own speed in starting it, but because the inexperienced boy from Ohio ducked into it at every move.

With his right, which is his most deadly blow, Wills hits very slowly; with almost the old Peter Maher slowness at times. To get the full power behind it he has to draw far back to launch his attack and when he is planning such a punch he slows up all over.

Wills Tangles Feet.

His poise on his feet is bad and he appears inclined to tangle his feet in moving around, as Willard did so often and his work in dancing in and out is not good. Dempsey, while seldom retreating, can back up like a flash to get out of range if he decides to change plans. Wills is positively awkward in retreating. In fact neither man ever has met a fighter who could compel them to retreat, so that they may lack practice in that respect. Dempsey is much the quicker in jumping in to follow up an attack if he lands an effective blow.

In the question of strength I believe that Dempsey is stronger of leg, of back, of shoulder and of upper arm. His conformation indicates that. Wills seems to have a stronger forearm and wrist. The only manner in which to judge the force of their blows is what they have done. Wills mauled Tut Jackson in slovenly, unfinished manner—almost foul. Dempsey roughed Carpentier somewhat and his attack upon the Frenchman was something like Wills' attack on Jackson—but his blows were cleaner and fairer. In fact Dempsey, with short arm drives, traveling scarcely ten inches, did more damage to Jess Willard's huge hulk than Wills was able to do to the slender Ohio Negro, who was outweighed 25 pounds.

Jack Hardest Hitter.

Watching the two men work with sparring partners gives the idea that Dempsey hits harder. In fact, he cannot pull a punch, although he tries. His blows travel much less distance than do those of Wills, travel straighter to the open spot and he seems to time them better.

When we come to study the contrasting styles of fighting it will be possible to explain their different usage of leverage in hitting. No matter how powerful a man may be, his power is of small use unless applied directly.

In the next article we will compare the defensive tactics of the fighters.

STARS IN TRACK GAMES TODAY AT KOSCIUSZKO PK.

Athletes representing nearly all athletic clubs in the city will compete today in the track and field meet to be held by the Illinois Amateur Athletic league at Kosciuszko park. Besides the track and field events a fifteen mile Illinois amateur championship roller skating race and a twenty mile run will be staged.

In the track and field meet, starting at 10 o'clock, such stars as Harold Osborne, former University of Illinois high jumper, and Loren Murchison, dash man, will compete under the colors of the Illinois A. C. In the twenty mile race the famous I. A. C. trio of distance runners, Schou Christensen, Chuck Mellor, and Sidney Hatch, will start at 1 o'clock on the long trip over the course laid out through the northwest side.

ANCONA TAKES YACHT RACE IN TROPHY SERIES

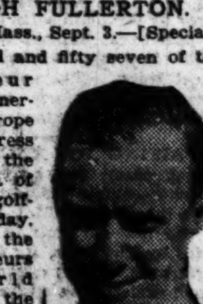
Clare Udell, sailing Ancona, beat out the 1921 winner, Naiad, sailed by Davis and Dalseg, in the second race of the Chicago Yacht club's one design class event for the Gehrmann trophy yesterday. The distance was once around the club's short course of four and one-half miles, and was the second race of the yearly series of three, the final of which will be contested today.

The race was close all the way, the yachts turning both marks in large groups, with the winner uncertain until the final helmsmanship by Udell. Naiad, which won Saturday's race, at present leads for the 1922 leg on the Gehrmann trophy with 19 points, but the issue will be decided today.

STARS OF GOLF WORLD IN U. S. AMATEUR PLAY

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—One hundred and fifty seven of the best amateur golfers in America and Europe engaged in dress rehearsal for the biggest drama of the amateur golfing year today. With nine of the ranking amateurs of the world hanging on the ragged edge because of slips and blunders yesterday, and only six in the magic thirty-two who may engage in the final contests ranking as outsiders the situation is tense.



CHICK EVANS.

The squeezing in of unexpected candidates has put some of the old favorites in a bad hole, and today the twenty-six who expected to qualify, labor under a handicap of from one to seven strokes. Outside of those there are two, Roger Wethered and Bernard Darwin, who face an almost insurmountable handicap.

The favorites in the wagering tonight, after a day of quiet Sabbath practice, are Guilford, Evans, Gardner, and Jones, with the British players left unconsidered until after the qualifying round of tomorrow is finished.

Tie for Golfer Trophy.

Sunday gave a break in the amateur championship, but instead marked a hot battle for possession of the American Golfer trophy, which was contested for for the twelfth time.

The match was at best ball between pairs from the same club and resulted in a tie between J. G. Anderson and Jess Sweetser of Siwanoy and W. M. Reckie and F. J. N. Dyer of Upper Montclair, both shooting sixty-nines. Chick Evans and Ira J. Couch, the Chicagoans, fought it out to the finish only to lose out in the last hole, where both were short on approach, dropping in the pit and taking six for 72 for the best ball.

Evans Off on Putting.

Evans was a trifle off in putting today and more unsteady than usual in his approaches, although he is shooting in freer style than he was either in the open or the western and he is still considered dangerous in this competition.

The tie for possession of the American Golfer trophy will be played off late this week, probably on the day the semi-finals are shot. The leading cards in the American Golfer best ball match today follow:

Public Course Golfers In.

The showing of the public links golfers in this amateur tournament is a bit of surprise. Aulbach and Quinlan, both Boston public links players, are both in the qualifying battle, with Aulbach almost certain to qualify. Eddie Held of St. Louis, winner of the public links championship, faces a heavy handicap to qualify tomorrow.

The guesses as to what score will be necessary to qualify differ greatly, but it is conceded that thirty-two must shoot 156 or better to be certain. Those with 157 will be on the ragged edge.

BIG CROWD SEES HORSE CONTESTS AT NORTH SHORE

A crowd of 1,500 turned out for the horse racing and exhibition events on the second day of the three day horse show of the North Shore Polo and Hunt club at the Lincoln and Peterson avenue field yesterday. Kitty Bell won the 2:50 trotting race, and in the show events, Gordon Gin of George Munding's stable and Miss Ruth Moody's Reality were prominent.

BELLE PLAINES, 17; RAGENS, 0.

The Belle Plaines went into the third round of the Cullerton cup race with a 12 to 0 victory over the Ragens. The game was suspended for a minute as a tribute to the memory of the late Albert Schultz, an ardent Belle Plaine fan. Score:

WORLD POLE VAULT RECORD OF 13:6.20 SET BY NORWEGIAN

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 3.—Charles Hoff, Norwegian holder of the British championship, made a new world's record for the pole vault at the Scandinavian athletic meeting here today, clearing the bar at 4 meters 12 centimeters (13 feet 6.20 inches). The old record of 13 feet 5 inches was made by the American, Frank Foss, at the Antwerp Olympic games in 1920.

HARRIS TO PLAY RICE IN MAYWOOD FINALS

Jack Harris and Ralph Rice will clash in the final match for the West Suburban tennis championship at West Maywood Tennis club today. Each yesterday fought through two rounds of play.

OLYMPIAS NIP CANADIAN CLUB AT SOCCER, 3 TO 1

After holding Olympia, Peel cup and Chicago league soccer champion, even in the first half, Canadian club weakened and lost, 3 goals to 1, at White City yesterday.

Smith scored the first goal of the game early in the opening half, for the Canucks, after accepting a nice pass from Jack Heath. Fawkes' team enjoyed the lead until a few minutes from half time, when Olympia knotted the count through Cardwell. Dick Vidano put the champions in the lead a few minutes after the interval, and "Fish" Heron registered the final marker.

Bricklayers won from Swedish-Americans, 4 to 3, at Brickie field. Vic Neate, former Pullman goalkeeper, was between the sticks for the Brickies and gave a good exhibition.

Ulster United defeated Western Electrics, 5 to 1, yesterday at Ogden park. Adair of the winners led the scoring with a pair of boots. Goals: Adair (2), Henry, McAlister, Truesdale, Stevenson.

This afternoon at White City the Olympics will collide with the Swedish-Americans.

NO SUBSTITUTION BY AUSTRALIANS IN FINALS TODAY

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Despite rumors to the contrary, William M. Johnston of the United States will face Gerald L. Patterson of Australia in the final singles matches of the Davis cup challenge round series tomorrow afternoon, and William T. Tilden II., United States, will meet James O. Anderson of Australia. The first of the two matches will start at 2:30 p. m. and is expected to attract the record tennis gallery of the year.

G. L. PATTERSON.

In accordance with the rules which govern competition in the Davis cup tournaments, a team that is nominated by either side for the singles cannot be changed once it has been announced in advance of the competition. That is, unless illness makes it impossible for one of the players to compete. Thus, if the Australians desire to substitute Wood for Anderson, they must obtain a physician's certificate stating that Anderson is not in physical shape to contest. If they can do that and desire to do so, the Americans will, of course, agree to the change.

Yanks Should Win Both.

General expectations are that the Americans will win both singles matches tomorrow afternoon.

In this estimate of the probable outcome of events the most reliable thing to turn to is Johnston's consistency of form. The Californian is incapable of poor tennis, and Paterson's hard serving and smashing will mean nothing in Johnston's young life. The Californian has handled tougher strokes than those, especially from Tilden, and came through victoriously. Moreover Johnston has an overwhelming advantage in his volleying.

Official Teams Announced.

Capt. Patterson made an official denial tonight of all rumors that Wood would take Anderson's place in the concluding singles tests. Patterson and Anderson are the choice, and Johnston and Tilden will oppose them, according to the announcement by Capt. Richard Norris Williams II. of the American team. This announcement was confirmed by Julian S. Myrick, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Miss Wills, paired with Miss Leslie Bancroft of West Newton, Mass., was victorious in the doubles final, defeating Mrs. Mallory and Miss Phyllis Walsh of Philadelphia in straight sets, 6—1, 7—5.

Ask Me! Ask Me!

By Mae Tinée.

H. M. Y.: Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix played in "Yellow Men and Gold." In "Blood and Sand," Walter Long plays the part of the bandit. Yes, he is a villainous looking fellow in his makeup, but there's a twinkle in his eye that suggests he's nice to old ladies and little children. Rough—but a good true heart withal. Yes, H. M. Y.?

EMMA: You bet I thought "Kindred of the Dust" a good picture. Ralph Graves was born in Cleveland, O., in 1900. Yes, he was once with Essanay. He played in "The Misleading Lady" for Metro. Probably he would answer your letter. Never having written him, can't say for certain.

JANESVILLE: That's what you might call a leading question. Write me another letter and let's see if you are who I think you are. Then we'll see about the "honest answer."

MARTIN: Thanks ever so much for your cordial letter. No, I don't get tired seeing pictures. That is—well—of course, some pictures are a great strain on a weak mind, aren't they? Jack Mulhall. No, the exhibitor you mention is not "a circus man on the side." Like to, awfully, but must refuse. Come again.

CHATTANOOGA: My dear little girl, of course I'll write to you if you'll send me your name and address and a stamped and self-addressed envelope. I have no pictures to give away, but I'll send you a list of the various companies and you can ask your favorites themselves if they will mail you their photographs. Twenty-five cents is the usual charge they make for a picture. Glad school is going to start. (Don't tell me, I know.)

GEORGE: Yes, if you call them comedies.

L. G. O.: Edith Storey started her screen career with Vitagraph. I haven't seen her in pictures for a long time. Looks like Anita Stewart, you think? Well—maybe. Miss Stewart is married. Bert Lytell is married, too. I'wekkum.

FRIEND: Of course I "take it as you mean it." You are nice to bother about writing. No, I don't believe so. Rodolf Valentino's address is 7139 Hollywood boulevard, Los Angeles. I've typed that number a million time, I know!

MISS K. R.: Glad to see your w. k. handwriting again. Where've you been? Jackie Coogan was born in New York in 1915. Yes, he was on the stage. At the age of 16 months, when he appeared with his father in Annette Kellerman's vaudeville act. Trouble? Not a bit.

DENVER: Lillian Gish has her own company. I imagine Mr. Griffith still keeps a supervising eye on her. Miriam Batista is the darling youngster you refer to. Too bad it's written in the cards she must lose her teeth and grow tall and lanky like all lovely little girls usually do. O, well, she's get over it and probably blossom forth in, say, 1929, as one of our most beautiful screen favorites.

HAROLD TEEN—OFF AGAIN—ON AGAIN

CLOSEUPS

Mack Sennett is quoted as saying of "Suzanne," with Mabel Normand, which he has just completed:

"It is the finest romantic comedy drama I have ever witnessed. Romance, heart interest and comedy gacked by marvelous production; in fact, it is a symphony. In other words, we can promise to deliver the goods."

When that boy thinks he's done something he thinks he's done something, doesn't he?

Orville Caldwell will be leading man for Katherine MacDonald in "The Lonely Road." He was the Sultan of Cairo in "Mecca," if you remember. Mr. Schulberg, head of Associated First National Pictures, thinks him "the most physically perfect actor of the stage."

"Good Men and True" will be Harry Carey's second picture for F. B. O. It is from the story by Eugene Manlove Rhodes.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

HILDA: THERE ARE RUMORS afoot (a horrible pun) that bronze shoes and stockings or brown satin pumps are swinging into popular favor on the avenoo. The sandal effects, I am told, too, are being replaced in favor by the plain satin pump of a year or two back, flanked by a buckle of quite imposing dimension—this for street wear. The colored pumps for evening to conform with the dress color scheme remains.

WAITING: YOU KNOW THAT OLD saying about two gray hairs coming in where one is pulled out. Don't believe there is anything to it, but what is the use of yanking out the gray hairs by the roots, for they will come right back in gray again. I know it is much easier to be optimistic about the graying hairs when you have none, but pulling them out is not going to help.

"Would you please think of me if anyone has pieces for making quilts? I would like to make some for baby's bed, and I see no other way than to come to you for help. Also, if any little girl has a book of Mother Goose rhymes to give, I would be grateful for it. MRS. R. J."

A son arrived at one of our neighbor's homes and Edgar had been over to see him.

A few days later I decided to pay the little one a visit and asked Edgar if he wished to accompany me, to which he replied, "O, no, it isn't new—it's the same one they had last week. E. L. S.

George is 3 years old, but a fighter of some experience.

Aunt Lucy warned him that if he and Johnnie fought any more she would have to separate them. A few moments later George appeared.

"Pease, Aunt Lucy, turn and separate Johnnie. He's fightin'." B. R.

Our two little girls were quarreling in high pitched voices, "A la tenement." I said, in a troubled voice, indeed, "Please stop this, girls; I can stand anything but inharmony."

One of them looked up surprised and said, "Why, mother, we are enjoying it." MRS. J. R.

DAILY HOROSCOPE

Doris Blake Says:

TODAY IS LUCKY FOR THE RATIONAL.

A most interesting planetary sway rules this day, making for all manner of flourishing and happy auspices, both in business and financial as well as in social, domestic, and romantic circles. All should thrive and prosper under this excellent sway, provided rational judgment and care attend all enterprise. If your birthday is today you have the augury of a good year, but you are urged to be careful of your conduct toward the opposite sex. A child born on this day should prove energetic and generous, kind and affectionate; may meet with reversals, but will be successful in the long run. The characteristics of those whose birthday is today are accuracy of detail and doing things without fuss. A true, reliable friend you are, and an equally reliable enemy. What you do you take pride in doing well. You are faithful to your duties, not given to knocking your head against impossibilities, and are contented with your lot.

Quite Right, Jean.

"Dear Miss Blake: Is it proper to have a boy kiss you good-night after he has taken you home from a dance and auto ride? He is a splendid fellow and I have known him for two months. He has asked for a kiss twice now. My mother is indifferent as to the answer because he has loads of money. "JEAN."

You seem to have better sense than your mother, dear. Perhaps it would be well for her to write me for advice, as she evidently does not realize her responsibilities. In the meantime, do not kiss him.

Mashed Sweet Potatoes in Ramekins.

To get a mashed sweet potato that will beat up smooth and even, like a mashed white potato, it is necessary to peel and slice the potatoes before cooking them. But to peel a raw sweet potato is somewhat as resistant a process as peeling the bark off a young tree. The skin of a sweet potato is indeed more like bark than that of most vegetables. The best way to peel them then is to drop them into boiling water for from five to eight minutes and then scrape off the skin. After this they may be seasoned and baked or roasted with pork. Baste them with the dripping.

Or slice sweet potatoes blanched in this fashion and cook them in a covered kettle with a tiny bit of fire and water hardly to cover. These will mash well, and need only salt and butter to finish. But sometimes this mashed potato will be dry and choky, and it cools quickly. Besides this people do like sweet potatoes seasoned somewhat or a good deal with sugar.

As a way to keep them hot, to sweeten them delicately and to make them pleasanter to the throat, prepare ramekins by buttering them, fill two-thirds full of the mashed sweet potato, sprinkle sugar over, and then add a tablespoon or a little more of cream. Put into hot oven or under the broiler—at considerable distance from the fire—and leave there until the top begins to brown.

It may entertain you in preparing the potatoes to pare one raw without blanching it before slicing it. In general those which are blanched will have a quarter of inch of surface which is practically cooked, or semi-transparent, while another by its side given the same treatment will not have cooked a bit. A potato that is pink inside and has black to greenish spots is denser and will not cook up so well.

Imagine Her Horror.

I had gone to the depot with my father to meet my uncle who was expected on the evening train. There was a crowd at the station, but we managed to push through when the train pulled in.

I saw my uncle get off and I hurried to him, put my arms around his neck, and kissed him enthusiastically.

Imagine my horror when I heard my father explaining, "You'll have to excuse my daughter; she thought you were her uncle."

The man was a stranger. E. H.

Scottish Baritone, Cameron McLean, Sings Pleasingly

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Song recitals at this time of year are not always to be enthusiastically anticipated or rapturously experienced, yet Cameron McLean, a newcoming Scottish baritone, managed last night to give one in about as comfortable physical surroundings as could be found. He appeared at the Edgewater Beach hotel, not in the building itself, but out of doors on a terrace in one of the angles of the structure.

As a result, the walls of the hotel formed a reflecting medium for what turned out to be an agreeable if not gigantic voice, partially overcoming the competition of street noises, inevitable whenever music in the open air is given in Chicago. Mr. McLean gave a generous and reasonably diverse program, an aria by Handel, Frederick Keel's "Salt Water Ballads," a group of songs concerning Scotland of both the genuine folk order and the synthetic representations thereof, others about Ireland, and a few art songs.

He was not insistent about making it a one-man concert, resigning the stage at intervals in favor of pleasantly jazzy strains from an orchestra and then resuming the course of the program. It could be imagined without undue difficulty that in a small, intimate hall, which the hotel terrace is not, Mr. McLean's pliant voice and personal style of interpretation might make him a fairly interesting figure in such a program. As it was, his sincerity of manner, unaffected simplicity, and excellent enunciation went far toward winning the liking and approval of his audience.

Enter, Madame, the Long, Tight Sleeve

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The time when we got a suit for our arms is gone by. We have now entered upon the era of the cell-like sleeve. Now and then we find something roomy, but there is no gainsaying that the new thing in this detail is long and tight.

With this as an original theme, the designers have done many things. They have sometimes granted a balloon fullness above the elbow and sometimes the puff occurs high above the wrist. Now and again a slit is taken in the shoulder and the upper arm. Often ruffles fall from the tight sleeve down over the hand, and on other models we observe long, wing shaped points such as are featured in today's coat dress of black duvetyn.

This model is otherwise rich in suggestions for autumn. There, for example, is the belted one side treatment reminiscent of a famous Vionnet model of the past summer. Then there is the arresting diagonal frill of black georgette stitched with a double row of silver thread, and last come the buttons, introducing again the metallic touch on their self fabric background. And, by the way, the silver thread appears on many of the new lingerie collar and cuff finishes.

Sunday fashion page will be found in the New Color Section.

The Subconscious Courtship

BY BERTA RUCK.

SYNOPSIS.

A second after Clover Elphinstone gives Major Carmichael that searching, all appraising glance the first night she meets him, she makes up her mind that she will ask him to marry her. She knows that he is the Major Carmichael, who had that thrilling escape from a Turkish prison camp, that he is indifferent to women, and that he is the inventor of a steering mast for aeroplanes.

Clover is a remarkable girl. At twenty-three she is at the head of the firm of Elphinstone Brothers, one of the largest importing concerns in England. At nineteen she had started with the firm as a typist and at twenty-one had become in one day the bride and widow of its proprietor, John Elphinstone.

Clover would have been perfectly content to have remained unmarried, but for the fact that she is surrounded by unwelcome suitors and has a host of followers whose chief interest in her lies in the fact that she is able to do things for them. She is a prey to unscrupulous persons with wild schemes to be launched. She is so distracted by these financial buzzards that she is afraid of losing her precious flair for turning over a profitable deal at the psychological moment.

That is why Clover asks Harry Carmichael to marry her. She doesn't want a husband, neither does he want a wife. What she wants is a barbed wire fence to keep off the social disturbers, and what he wants is enough money to launch his mast. At first he refuses to entertain her insulting proposition, but she gets at him through his beloved mast, and after a mock courtship of two weeks' duration, they announce their engagement.

INSTALLMENT XIX.

JOY BELLS.

Comments attend an engagement as naturally as birds follow the plow. But the Clover-Carmichael engagement provided few juicy tit-bits for the gossips. These people knew merely that the pair had met at a dinner; that they were to be married soon: on February fourteenth.

Nobody had heard if that silent young man had fallen in love at first sight with that independent young woman. What he said about her, what she thought about him, and exactly "how much in love" the couple were—all this side of it remained a disappointing blank.

"So reserved, both of them," was Mrs. Meadows' verdict. "Darling Clover never has been able to show her deeper feelings even to us. Yet we know they must be there. And, though people do say a girl is attracted by her opposite, it's certainly not so here. Major Carmichael is a case of 'like to like.' I have never yet seen the young man look at Clover—not what we should call 'look,' in my day."

She was in the Richmond, Victorian jazz drawing room, talking to her girls.

Rosemary said, "Your day was so dizzily sentimental, dear. It makes us post-war people quite faint to think of it. Our world is more full of a number of things. Clover's got the business. He's got his engineering. They put lots of themselves into their work, mother. But the nineteenth century was the age for putting all the emotional eggs into one basket. And, when the whole lot crashed at one fell swoop, O, the omelet of sentiment!"

Here Sandal's clear treble broke in with, "I call him Harry! I haven't heard her call him Harry yet. Not to his face. I once read somewhere that 'The pronoun you in a certain tone of voice is the most passionate endearment that can be uttered by a woman's lips.' Naturally I'm always listening for it, hard," proclaimed the flapper. "But I bet that doesn't mean any of the tones of voice Clover utters it in! Not she; I always notice she says the same 'you' to Duck Carmichael as she said to Frostyface Elphinstone and all the people at the office. Talk about engaged people in the house being as good as a play!" she tossed the golden rope of hair back over her shoulder, "I call it a crashing failure from my point of view!"

"They are mostly killed as a matter of fact."

"Every pair of lovers invent a special little language of their own," mused Mrs. Meadows, paying as usual scant heed to her children's prattle. "Major Carmichael and our dear Clover may not seem to have much to say to each other, but when none of us are there I expect it's a very different story."

It was; though not in the sense that the gentle soul imagined. Take, for instance, that discussion of theirs about February the fourteenth.

Day of a neglected saint, it has come in this country to mean far less than Guy Fawkes, less than the Feast of All Fools. Only some lovers still remember; some naturalists; some sentimentalists. Mrs. Meadows, hearing the date fixed for Clover's wedding, murmured, "Valentine's day. How touching!" Her mind went back decades to what St. Valentine's day had meant to her; the cardboard casket with the frill of lace; the heart of pink perfumed padded satin; the ribbon tag that, pulled, revealed an opening bouquet of paper blossoms bearing the motto, "Be mine." That fashion was dead as the then fashionable bustle. To her daughters, Rosemary and Lavender, "a Valentine" had still meant the excuse for presents from admirers who wished to send chocolates in a lordly box or scent in a phial of cloudy glass. Little Sandal would have cried "Valentines? Those weird cards with doves doing nose dives on them? It must have been a scream to have anybody in love with you in those days!"

Still—to be married on Valentine's day had seemed a pretty idea. Consider, however, how much the prettiness of the idea meant to those fiancés, once away from those whom it must impress.

Carmichael, turning over his small pocket diary, said, "Yes, I did make a forward note for the fourteenth. Here 'tis. You booked it, too?"

"Would I forget it?" said Clover snubbingly.

This happened when they had gone out for a walk ("to discuss final arrangements") on Wimbledon Common. The world's worst climate poured upon them torrents of cold driving rain; the roads and the paths between the gorse bushes were deserted—given up to this adventurous couple in wet weather attire. They strode along, brogues splashing through puddles, cold drops on their eyelashes, able to see little ahead—in any case it would have been a comfortless prospect enough, that afternoon.

"Right. That's our wedding day; then," said Carmichael briskly. "A quiet affair. Just your aunt and those girls, I suppose. You won't want any one else, Clover?"

Clover, sharply: "Quiet? Certainly not! Just the family? Good gracious! What made you think of such a thing? That would miss the whole point!"

"What point? Surely you don't want a tamasha? Mobs of people?"

"But, of course, that's exactly what I do want!"

Horrified silence from the bridegroom-to-be.

"I want," said the bride-to-be, resolutely, "every outward and visible sign that I can have. A big wedding. Joy bells. A crush at the Hyde Park hotel. Red carpet and confetti galore; masses of flowers, cases and cases of champagne. Everybody I know. Everybody! I must have the difference well marked."

"Er—what difference?"

"The difference that there is going to be in my life. In my way of living, at all events. I want that made obvious, to everybody. A hole and corner wedding would not seem so like a real one. Don't you understand what I want?"

He did not reply. Gloomily he stared ahead, seeing, not the weeping landscape, but that ceremony, that crush. He could not have told any one how hideous and what a mockery it all seemed suddenly to him. To Clover, too, it suddenly appeared from another angle. She had meant to exclude everything but the business aspect. It had seemed perfectly all right two years before when she had found herself willing to make a marriage of convenience with that remote employer of hers, John Elphinstone. But now—on the eve of this not even marriage, where the man would benefit as much as she—now, at the eleventh hour, she found herself thinking against it.

It was an ugly sham! It was taking cover behind what was intended to shelter something tender and beautiful! It was a gigantic fraud on her own people! It wasn't criminal—she had here to remind herself that of course it wasn't supposed to be cricket, it was pure business. Her deep down and growing repugnance to it did not keep Clover silent. On the contrary, to drown the voice of the whisperer from the depths, she became deliberately fluent.

"This wedding," she declared, "is to make what is vulgarly called 'a splash.' And, while I remember! I wish you, please, to get married in uniform. If I could wear orange blossoms and auntie's wonderful old Limerick lace veil and a court dress of white Miracle brocade I would. But I can't."

"Can't you? Why not?"

"Because, of course, widows don't."

"I see."

Striding along beside her, he checked an almost imperceptible smile. What sort of a widow was this girl, who had been married for exactly a quarter of an hour? The same sort of widow she would go on being if anything happened to her second husband.

"I see," he said again. "Widows don't. And I am sorry but I am afraid demobilised temporary officers don't, either."

"Don't what?"

"Wear uniform at their weddings."

"D'you mean you aren't allowed to?"

"I'm afraid not," said he, feeling for the first time in his career some gratitude towards the powers that be.

She objected. "But you're a special reserve man? I thought you could apply for permission——"

"Impossible, I am afraid," returned Carmichael; and she saw it was final, it not from the war office, then from himself.

Very cross with both of them, she agreed, "Well, if it's impossible, you can't, of course." And she wondered if this young soldier would have felt that to wear the king's uniform at this wedding would have been making it a masquerade, even as her cloak had been for him? As a matter of fact, he did think that. Subtly the message had conveyed itself from his mind to hers. Not in khaki, thanks. He'd worn it in all decency, so far.

Stung, she went on, "At all events I shall want you to make a list of all the people—as many as you can, please—whom you want asked to the wedding."

"I," said Carmichael, calmly, "do not propose to ask a single soul."

"Then I," said Clover Elphinstone, "am not going to marry a man without any friends."

"Please yourself!" said he.

Then he told himself, "Here, steady on. Needn't be uncivil to the girl; quarreling as if you were actually beginning to mind what she said. It's a curious thing that ever since that dance we've been ruder to each other instead of more decent; steady on."

And he repeated more politely, "Please yourself; I mean about your invitations. But as for mine—cut them out. Oughtn't you, if you intended to provide friends as well, oughtn't you to have told me sooner? You shouldn't begin putting these new clauses into the contract now."

"HAVE A HEART," CHARITY'S PLEA ON NEXT MONDAY

City-Wide Appeal for Funds Planned.

Have a heart!

Thirty-one hundred girls and women will mount guard on the street corners of Chicago on Monday morning, Sept. 11, and throughout the day will ask every passerby to "have a heart."

They will officially represent the thirty-one charitable organizations which comprise the Chicago Federated Charities, and will inaugurate the series of three great annual tag days for the recognized charities of this city.

When they ask the passerby to "have a heart," it will be literally true, for the tags they will hand to the charitably inclined will be red hearts on which the words of the slogan will be printed in large letters.

Profusion of Tag Days Hit.

Aside from the main purpose, which is to obtain money for the charities of Chicago, another object of this federated movement is to eliminate the profusion of tag days which in past days have tagged and taxed the patience of Chicagoans to the breaking point.

ALD. A. O. ANDERSON.

Ald. A. O. Anderson of the Thirty-third ward is president of the Chicago Federated Charities, and is fathering the movement in city council to abolish indiscriminate tag days, and assemble the appeals for all worthy organizations in three big days.

Other officers of the organization are Miss L. Ellen Babcock, first vice president; Miss Helen L. Dickey, second vice president; Mrs. I. Benjamin, third vice president; Frank H. Cenfield, secretary; Mrs. E. B. Kiessling, corresponding secretary; George B. Sachs, treasurer. Committee chairmen include Miss Babcock, Mrs. Lester Wellman, Mrs. George Nevius, Mrs. John T. Ray, Dr. G. W. Nevius, and Ald. Anderson.

Money contributed on this coming day will be devoted to what are usually known as miscellaneous charities.

They include hospitals, schools, day nurseries, homes for working mothers with babies; and similar philanthropies. The other two official tag days, to be later announced, will broadly cover adult charities and the Children's Benefit league.

Here Are Organizations Included.

Organizations which will be represented Sept. 11 are: Douglas Park Day and Night nursery, Chicago Junior School association, Chicago Consumptives Aid society, Daughters of Zion Jewish Day nursery, the Little Wanderers' association of America, Resthaven, Protestant Woman's National association, Julia Johnson Home for Working Girls, Chicago Ladies Gamlath Chasodim society, the Coöperative League of Chicago, Independent Sisters of Charity, German Evangelical Deaconess hospital, German Evangelical Orphan and Old People's Home, the Good Will Workers, Protestant Children's Aid, United Sisters of Charity, the "B" Friendly Ladies' Aid society, Northwest Side Sisters of Charity, Daughters of Jacob South Side Day and Night nursery, Samuel Isaac Sick Visiting and Aid society, Humboldt Daughters of Israel, Sisters of the Helping Hand of the Northwest Side, Independent Ladies' Aid society, Chicago Ladies' Aid society, Lechem Loaniem Ladies' Aid society, American Ladies' Aid, Mercy Hospital Free Dispensary, Necessity Club Day nursery, Lydia Children's Home, B'Noth Zion society, Wendell Phillips nursery. Each organization will have 100 representatives with tags.

O'CONNOR NABS 3 ALLEGED "DIPS" SINGLE HANDED

Single handed, Acting Chief of Detectives William O'Connor last night captured three alleged pickpockets at 22d and State streets. A fourth escaped under a fusilade of bullets from O'Connor's gun.

BEG PARDON!

In an item in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE one Joseph Carey was described as "a chauffeur for State Representative Thomas O'Grady." Carey was never so employed, and Representative O'Grady says he has "only a Ford and does his own chauffeuring."

The Tribune will pay $5 each for questions which are accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send in your name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter, Chicago Tribune." No questions will be returned. For today's question Ervin Stoll, 2250 Leland avenue, Chicago, was awarded $5.

GULF BOOTLEG RING HIT BY FOUR ARRESTS HERE

Police Uncover New Rum Smugglers.

Chicago police last night started a campaign against importation of British liquor into the city via the West Indies and New Orleans when they arrested four Pullman car porters, charged with smuggling the booze through from New Orleans.

An organized ring of smugglers, with stations along a trail thousands of miles long and extending from the islands of Jamaica and Haiti, equipped with a complete rum navy, will be penetrated by these arrests and others that are to be made today here and in New Orleans, the police assert.

Raids Planned Today.

Advices from New Orleans last night were that the United States terminus of the liquor has been located there in the river front district and that it will be raided this morning.

Detectives Howe and Bowler of the detective bureau arrested the four porters when they arrived from New Orleans last night. It is said that the porters, as well as Pullman car conductors, have been utilized to smuggle the liquor from the terminus to Chicago in small but numerous parcels, and that from this city it is again distributed by other agents over a wide area.

Uncover Fake U. S. Stamps.

Source of counterfeit revenue stamps used by the central west whisky redistilling ring was also uncovered yesterday, prohibition agents believed, when they seized thousands of spurious stamps in a raid on the Harrison pharmacy, 776 West Harrison street.

A mysterious tip, furnished by a woman social worker who stumbled across the evidence of the work of the bootlegger counterfeiters, was responsible for the raid.

Two men, said to be joint proprietors of the drug store, are under arrest. They are Saul Steiner and Fred Rongetti.

Seize Fake Labels.

In the raid the federal agents seized hundreds of strips of counterfeited revenue stamps, "bottled in bond" labels for whisky bottles and many forged liquor permits.

It is believed by Col. L. G. Nutt, associate prohibition director, and his assistant, Col. O. K. Forrer, who directed the search, that the Steiner-Rongetti combination has been working closely with the Minnesota-Illinois ring which has been flooding the central west, it is alleged, with whisky made from alcohol distilled from hair tonics and the like.

When the woman social worker recently brought to Col. Nutt a strip of the counterfeit stamps he remembered that a federal "spy" had reported that one of the men who make the Harrison pharmacy a headquarters had boasted he could make a counterfeit stamp that would fool "Gregory or Haynes."

Make Test Purchase.

So yesterday a squad of prohibition agents surrounded the pharmacy while one of them entered and bought $400 worth of fake permits and stamps.

Then the others walked in and seized the alleged counterfeit paper and arrested the proprietors.

It is declared that the raid will block preparations said to be under way on a big scale to make a special paper bearing the exact watermark of the government's liquor permits.

Steiner and Rongetti will be arraigned on Sept. 12 before United States Commissioner Mason.

Still Probe Rum Battle.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert M. McMillan will visit Swedish Covenant hospital again this morning in an effort to have John M. Horan and Sergt. Edward McEvoy reveal the mystery of the bootleggers' battle on Higgins road last week, in which they were wounded.

McMillan has ordered both wounded men placed under a police guard, following their refusal Saturday to answer his questions. It is said that shock caused by her husband's serious condition has made Mrs. McEvoy ill in her home, 4154 North Robey street.

In tribute to Al Schultz, a saloonkeeper at Lincoln and Montrose avenues, who was killed in the fight, 8,000 spectators at a ball game yesterday on grounds opposite his saloon stood with bowed heads for three minutes. The game was between the Ragan Colts and Belle Plaines, of which latter team Schultz was a backer.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

How did you spend your summer vacation?

Where Asked.

Lincoln park.

The Answers.

Robert Farrington, 6206 Harper avenue, schoolboy, 11 years old—I spent most of my time caddying in Jackson park and I earned enough to buy a radio outfit and still have $16 in the bank. I also helped my mother at home. Wish I could work all the time out at the park.

Jane Curtis, Western Springs, schoolgirl, 15 years old — I spent a month of my vacation at the Girl Scouts' camp at Lake Geneva and earned a badge for home nursing. The rest of my vacation I spent helping mother and taking care of my baby sister.

Max Lee, 734 Fair place, schoolboy, 13 years old—I spent my whole vacation working in Lincoln park leading ponies for the children to ride on. I am the oldest in a family of seven children and I had to use the $5 a week I earned to help them. I will be glad to get back to school.

George Ehrhart, 917 Eastwood avenue, schoolboy, 14 years old—I was at Camp Olivet, Lake Geneva, fishing and swimming and had a fine time. I also worked a while for a dressmaker delivering packages, but I don't like that kind of work. I had a good vacation.

Catherine Webber, Champaign, Ill., schoolgirl, 11 years old —I camped most of the time with my mother and father at Wauconda and had a good time rowing and fishing. I did not do any studying while I was away but I'll make up for that in my next grade. My mother keeps me in spending money about the house.

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

IN the course of a suave and friendly curtain speech at the Playhouse last evening Mme. Olga Petrova found occasion to observe that it seemed, at times, "very easy to write millions of words on oysters or clams or romances in Spain."

I do not suppose there are a million words, or anything like it, in her new play, "The White Peacock," but I can readily imagine the writing of it to have been a facile and agreeable task. It is the sort of thing one does in one's leisure moments, jotting down a thought or turn of phrase as the opportunity presents itself, to be embellished, when ready, with illuminated initials and things, and published privately, if one can afford it, in very expensive binding.

Thus, in a deliberate and conversational manner it traverses with elegance a number of topics, ranging from politics and murder to art, feminism, and love beyond the pale. No sooner do its players develop a dramatic situation than they pause to discuss it, elaborating thoughtfully on this point or that; or, perhaps, they step aside to permit contemplation of a lovely stage picture, such as moonlight on a lofty wall of cobalt blue, or Mme. Petrova languidly viewing a sunset while a property nightingale gurgles in the offing.

As drama it is a bit drowsy, but as literature it is rather engaging.

The tale is of an artist wedded to a Spanish politician and weary of his knavish philanderings. She has lived in America and has ideas about woman's rights. So she withdraws to a studio retreat and sets up her own menage.

Through her window at midnight comes a red sashed prowler, expressing a desire to know her better. Her eyes, he remarks, are like stars, her body like the rising moon, her lips like blood, etc. Having unburdened himself of much detailed eloquence, he hands her his gun as an evidence of good faith. She offers him a chair, bids him smoke if he likes, and goes to bed in a canopied couch, completely surrounded by objets d'art.

After that diverting introduction he becomes her model for purposes of painting, and she, chastely, loves him. Various complications ensue including her husband's demand that she come home (he being a candidate for minister of the interior and desiring no scandal), and the discovery that her model is a fugitive from justice, condemned for a murder which her husband committed. At the end there is gun play, and the right triumphs.

It sounds exciting, but it is all curiously clouded with an air of unreality. There is so much atmosphere.

Mme. Petrova, somewhat less bizarre than in former years, still nevertheless maintains a sedulous air of exoticism—pale face, red lips, and an odd way of gargling an "r," reminiscent of her days in vaudeville, when she used to imitate parrots. Emotional scenes, however, she achieves with reticence and with telling effect.

A number of good players give convincing portrayals of a variety of romantic types.

DEATH OF COUPLE IN HOME GIVES POLICE MYSTERY

Stretched out on the floor of the basement of their home, a pet poodle dog in a dying condition a few feet away, William Hels, 54 years old, a wealthy retired saloonkeeper, living at 1732 North Francisco avenue, and his wife, Annie, 64 years old, were found dead by a relative yesterday morning.

Police believe the couple died from ptomaine poisoning, after a careful examination of the bodies had failed to reveal any signs of violence. All the doors and windows of the lower floor were locked from within, and no trace of either gas or chloroform was discernible, it is said.

Discovered by Nephew.

The twin deaths were discovered by Ralph Rechenmaher, 21 years old, a nephew of the Hels, who has been living with them for four months. He told the police he noticed the couple's absence when he awoke in the morning, and after a search of the house came upon them in the laundry.

He immediately phoned another uncle, Charles Hels, 1527 North Claremont avenue, who arrived a few minutes later. They notified the North avenue police and the pulmotor squad. Examination showed that death was not due to gas poisoning. Lieut. James Doherty took Rechenmaher to the station for questioning.

All Three Have Dinner.

"The last I saw of my aunt and uncle was shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon," Rechenmaher told Lieut. Doherty. "We had dinner at 1, and then I went to the front room and practiced for more than an hour. I am a piano teacher, with a studio in Kimball hall.

"Mrs. Hels finished doing up the dinner dishes and said she was going down to the basement and wash little Jimmie, the dog. Both of them were fond of Jimmie, who has been with them for several years. When I left Uncle Will was sitting on the front porch."

What They Ate.

When questioned as to what the meal consisted of, Rechenmaher said they had boiled potatoes, pork chops, lettuce, celery, and some fruit. All three of them ate heartily of the meal, and Rechenmaher stated he did not feel any ill effects at any time during the day.

"I arrived home shortly after 11 o'clock last night," he continued. "I noticed at the time that a light, which was usually burning in the hall, was out. Not thinking anything wrong, I went immediately to bed. When I awoke this morning I noticed their absence and started a search."

Will Analyze Stomach.

Coroner's Physician John M. Goltra performed an autopsy and announced he could find no cause for death. Samples of the contents of the stomach were rushed to a city chemist to be analyzed. Dr. Goltra is working on the theory the couple died from ptomaine poisoning. Investigation failed to show that they had any other meal besides the noon dinner.

Mr. Hels is said to hold considerable real estate holdings on the north side. He retired from the saloon business several years ago. No reason for suicide could be advanced by any one. The couple had been dead apparently since 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

BOY WHO CAN'T SWIM DIVES INTO CANAL; DROWNED

Bernard Hack, 17 years old, of 2838 Wallace street, son of Patrolman Fred Hack, went to Palos park yesterday afternoon with a truckload of other boys for a Sunday picnic.

For a time the lads played ball, then decided to go wading in the drainage canal. "Guess I'll take a dive," said young Hack, and stripping off his clothing, he proceeded to jump into the deepest part of the canal. He couldn't swim.

BERNARD HACK.

While his frightened playmates—none of whom could swim, either—looked on, he rose to the surface and then sank. Frank Keucher, a garage owner who lives nearby, dived several times in a vain effort to save the boy. The body was found last night when police dragged the canal.

SPRINGS TO STAY FEUDIST'S PISTOL; SHOT IN HEART

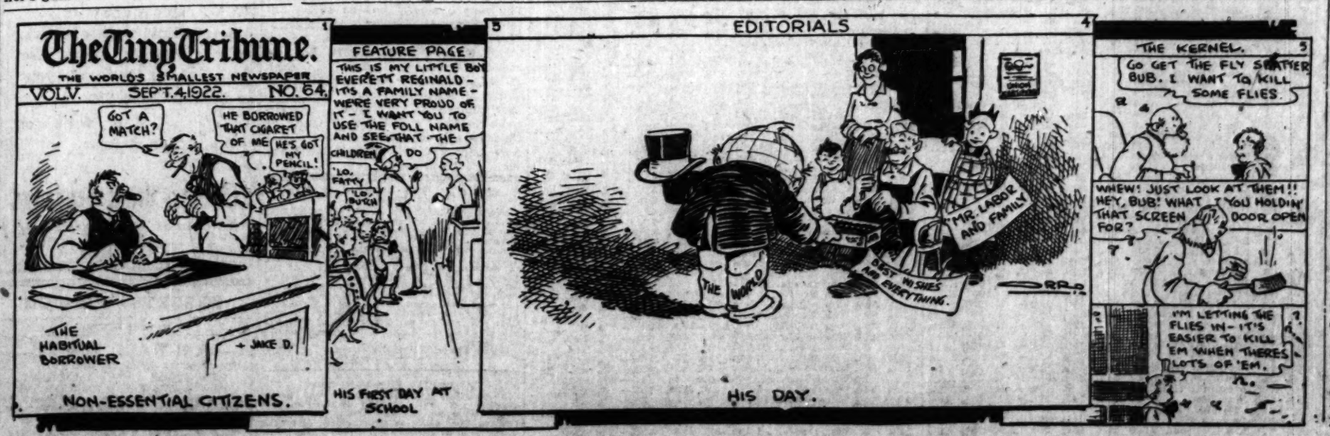
Mary Urgo, the bride, blushing prettily, had been kissed by everybody in the hall at Melrose Park yesterday while the bridegroom, Peter Rago, looked on with a smile.

"Come on, you fellers," yelled Rocco Zito, father of seven, to his cronies. "Come on over to my house and we'll leave these youngsters to their dance. Perhaps we have a little red wine, eh?"

So to Zito's home trooped the others, including Tony Padula, 2116 West Ohio street—also father of seven and a cousin of Zito, godfather to all his children. And with them went Jim Gallimosa.

With wine Zito played the gallant host. Still gallant he tried, several hours later, to stop the outburst of an old fued between Padula and Gallimosa.

Suddenly Padula whipped a revolver from his pocket and aimed it at his old enemy. Like a flash Zito jumped between them. But Padula had pressed the trigger and the bullet penetrated the heart of Zito. He died instantly. Padulo escaped, but was captured later.



COOL JUDGMENT OF WALL STREET ENDS PESSIMISM

The New York Times.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The course of events last week, so far as it affected the larger economic problems of the hour, vindicated again the familiar tradition that the public mind becomes most pessimistic over an unpleasant situation at the moment when that situation is about to change for the better. Probably the gloomiest day of the season in Wall street was that on which, two or three weeks ago, the markets momentarily reflected the prevalent sentiment of hopelessness over the strikes and their industrial consequences. But the bituminous strike was virtually terminated only a few days later.

Since then, instead of announcements of mills and foundries closing down for want of fuel, the news began to tell of gradual resumption of work at idle furnaces, and at the same time the brotherhoods of operating railway employés emphatically repudiated all purpose of a sympathetic strike with the railway shopmen.

Another Day of Pessimism.

Similarly, last Monday's market gave passing reflection to the public's mood of apprehension under the triple influence of the intimations of government seizure of the railways, continuance of the hard coal strike, and the talk of Germany's economic ruin. But the same week subsequently witnessed the government's denial of any purpose of federal operation except in extreme emergency. Evidence that the railways were rapidly getting the problem of shop repairs in hand became indisputable. Thursday's temporary compromise of the allies with Germany followed, and the end of the anthracite strike was plainly in sight.

It is possible now, when facts are replacing vague conjecture, to understand the actual movement of events. However incomplete the compromise with Germany, its acceptance nevertheless shows unwillingness even on the part of France to force a crisis. The daily reports on recruiting of railway shop forces prove that not only are new mechanics taking up the work, but that the older employés are returning, a sure sign of a failing strike. That the anthracite strike should at the same time have reached a settlement was a sure result both of the pressure of public opinion against its continuance and of the well known fact that the men, being out of money and wearied with inactivity, were eager to return.

Cool Judgment Prevails.

Looking back at this series of events, it is easy to see why all of them were the logical outcome of the situation. The complete recovery of financial markets after each occasional spasm of despondency has become so little of a mystery that it now merely indicates the fact that cool financial judgment had again been able to see the real probabilities of the situation when public opinion, in its state of nervous apprehension, was incapable of doing so.

Even if all misgivings as to an imminent crisis in the home and foreign situation were to be cleared away, there would still be left the question whether a good deal of mischief may not have been done already through interruption of financial and industrial plans and, in particular, through the prolonged embargo on the activities of productive industry. Such a question is never easy to answer; lost ground will sometimes never be made up.

Precedents Recalled.

In this country's past experience there are two well known precedents. The wartime fuel famine of 1918, its "heatless Mondays," its five day suspension of manufacture at the climax of the shortage, and its restriction throughout the winter on nonessential uses of coal hardly presents a parallel in circumstance. The checking influence on that occasion was the prodigious strain on transportation facilities to forward instantaneously the food and war material consigned to Europe. With all that unexampled handicap to distribution of fuel from the mines there was no curtailment of productive industry in the aggregate and little discomfort even from lack of adequate household fuel.

In the older but more closely analagous case of the anthracite strike of 1902, which lasted from May 12 to Oct. 23 and cut down production during that period by almost exactly the same amount as it has been cut down this year, the return to normal conditions came with quite unexpected quickness. Before production was resumed forecasts of the winter's problem had reached a pitch of hysterical apprehension. Yet it was on Nov. 15, only a month after the strike was terminated, that the mayor of New York officially declared the supply of anthracite to be so far sufficient for all requirements that the "smoke ordinance," prohibiting substituting of soft coal in the city's industries and homes, would thereafter be enforced again.

Must Work to Normalcy.

Reasonable forecasts of the immediate industrial and financial future must be conditioned largely on the promptness with which fuel supplies are restored to a normal working basis on the present occasion. That question will be determined when the railways' facilities are fairly tested by the simultaneous movement of coal in quantities larger even than in ordinary times, of grain from the new harvest, and of the traffic in general merchandise, which despite the numerous impediments of the season has on one or two weeks this summer nearly reached the largest recorded magnitude.

Granting solution of the transportation problem, it is safe to assume from all the indices of trade that the country's requirements, which would have increased very substantially in any case this autumn, will be extremely large as a consequence of the midsummer hesitation of producers in accepting or executing orders. That industrial revival will proceed at the pace which was imagined earlier in the season is more questionable; trade has now to contend with the visibly increased caution of foreign buyers, with the dilemma of a possible cotton shortage and the accompanying high textile prices, and with the necessarily decreased purchases from the mass of workingmen who have been earning nothing during the coal and railway strikes.

Fall of Big Promise.

If this means only that the movement of recovery will be gradual and deliberate, not forced by the large facilities of credit and a sudden rise of prices to a stage of excited activity which could only invite reaction, there will be no good reason for regretting that the prophecies of an "autumn trade boom" of large dimensions had not been fulfilled.

COTTON DUTIES REMAIN SAME IN NEW TARIFF ACT

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Manufacturers of cotton goods will receive in the new tariff law about the same amount of protection as in the former Payne-Aldrich act.

While the McCumber bill as originally reported from the senate finance committee boosted duties in the cotton schedule above the Payne-Aldrich level, the committee later found it advisable to scale the rates down so that they would not average above those of the last Republican tariff law. There is no radical difference in the policy underlying the duties applying to cotton manufactures in the house and senate bills now being adjusted in conference although there are a number of minor points of conflict.

Because of the fact that the framers of the cotton schedule in both houses sought to give the manufacturers as much protection as they had in the Payne-Aldrich law the duties have been assailed not only by the Democrats but by a few Republicans, including Senators Lenroot and La Follette [Wis.].

Oppose Cotton Rates.

It is contended by Senators Lenroot and La Follette that the Payne-Aldrich duties on cotton goods ranked among the "indefensible" features of that law, that cotton manufacturers have made excessive profits and that present competitive conditions prevailing with respect to the cotton manufacturing industry in this country and in England are such as to furnish less excuse for high duties than at the time of the passage of the Payne-Aldrich law.

One important difference between the house and senate bills is the imposition in the senate measure of a duty on long staple cotton. The house bill restored long staple cotton to the free list, while the senate measure continued the duty of 7 cents a pound on cotton with a staple of 1⅜ inches or more which is now in effect in the emergency tariff law. Neither bill attempts to place any duty on ordinary short staple cotton. The long staple cotton duty in the senate bill is accompanied by compensatory rates on manufactures of long staple cotton.

Follows Senate's Policy.

The long staple cotton duty is in line with the general policy of the senate to give protection to agricultural products and is designed to benefit growers of this grade of cotton in Arizona, who fear the competition of similar cotton grown in Egypt.

Duties in the present Underwood act on cotton manufactures are about half those of the former Payne-Aldrich law. According to critics of the cotton schedule of the pending bill, the Underwood rates in same cases have proved prohibitive. American cotton cloth manufacturers fear no competition from Germany or Japan, the two countries with the lowest costs of production. Their one important competitor is the United Kingdom.

"Jokers" Modify Duties.

Provisions for extra duties on cotton goods were included in the McCumber bill as reported from the finance committee and met with attack as "jokers," as a result of which they were modified considerably on the floor of the senate. One of these modifications consisted in providing that the maximum duty on cotton cloth, exclusive of the compensatory duty on long staple cotton, should be 45 per cent, which was the average rate in the Payne-Aldrich law.

Under the operation of this maximum the duty on ginghams, for example, would aggregate the equivalent of 49 per cent, including the compensatory rate applicable to long staple cotton, as against 20 per cent in the present law. Without the 45 per cent maximum the total rate would have been somewhat higher.

Sueded Gloves Protected.

Manufacturers of cotton gloves, particularly those of the sueded variety, are to be given greater protection than in the Payne-Aldrich law. In the case of the sueded cotton gloves, which were manufactured for the first time in the United States during the war, competition comes from Germany and a different situation prevails than in the case of cotton goods imported from England. To offset the low German costs the senate bill contains duties on cotton gloves made on warp-knitting machines of from $2.50 to $3.00 a dozen pairs. The rate in the house bill was 40 per cent, American valuation.

The present law imposes a duty of 35 per cent, foreign valuation. The senate agreed to a limitation of 75 per cent on duties on cotton gloves.

American manufacturers of the sueded cotton gloves, it is stated, have been obliged to close their plants during the last year as a result of the importation of large quantities of German gloves.

The duty in the house bill on collars and cuffs is 25 cents a dozen, plus 12½ per cent, while in the senate bill it is 35 cents a dozen, plus 10 per cent.

LONDON TRADERS CHEERED BY END OF GERMAN ROW

BY ROBERT STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Up till yesterday the city was kept in a state of suspense regarding the outcome of the reparations commission's deliberations, and with business consequently low there was some tendency here to give way to unwarranted anxiety. When the compromise and its acceptance by the French cabinet came the markets were quiet. Then buyers came back into the open and the efforts of bears to buy back acted as sparks to tinder, with the result that prices blazed up all over the house and dealers separated for the week-end in a cheery frame of mind.

Gilt edged securities suffered discouraging vicissitudes, the prices sagging owing to a good deal of liquidation and lack of support by the large interests. As a result, consols, which were dull, were in striking contrast to their recent brilliancy. War loans, however, tipped the balance the other way, romping up to par at one time and sinking at the close to only a fraction below.

The foreign market mostly was wrapped up in the fortunes of the French government and in railway bonds, in which considerable bear account had accrued. On Friday there was a regular stampede to buy, with prices consequently closing around top, and the entire atmosphere, wonderfully clarified, brightened. German loans were much speculated in at rubbish prices, while Czecho-Slovakia at one time was low as a result of the extensive profit taking.

Textiles passed a good week, benefiting by the increased animation and the removal of political and other worries. The prices, after several spurts, settled to an average level considerably higher than that of last week and closed cheerfully. Tobaccos were reactionary. Mines were quieter, but firm throughout, Kaffirs giving off but later rallying well. Other issues held up satisfactorily.

In oils, where there were signs of a steadily broadening market, the leaders found a good deal of influential support.

There was increased stagnation in rubbers following the new Dutch government's decision not to take measures to restrict production. There was considerable worry in this section over the development, the fact now being openly admitted that matters have reached a stage where something drastic must be done to save the situation, but what has not been decided.

CONGRESS ASKED TO CREATE TWO TARIFF BOARDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Probable impairment of the usefulness of the United States tariff commission is seen by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in the event of enactment of the tariff bill as passed by the senate authorizing the commission to adjust flexible customs rates.

This view was expressed in a letter sent to members of congress today by Julius Barnes, president of the chamber, in which it is urged that a separate governmental body be created to adjust rates.

Suggests Two Boards.

In the opinion of Mr. Barnes, "the field work is broad and varied enough and to warrant two bodies, the present tariff commission with its statisticians, research workers and field agents to investigate and advise, and a new tariff adjustment board to hear evidence and to render decisions.

"If congress adds new duties and quasi-judicial functions to the present duties of the tariff commission," he writes, "it will endanger the usefulness of that body.

In his letter Mr. Barnes also shows "that the time limitation of two years placed upon the power to adjust practically nullifies any benefits because of delays incident to the right of appeal granted.

Court Delay Cited.

"Under ordinary court procedure cases could not be carried through the court of customs appeal and the United States Supreme court before the life of the flexible rate provision had run its course. Flexible tariff rates should not be made nugatory through limitations when congress always retains the power to repeal the flexible provisions at any time it desires to do so."

At the same time Mr. Barnes set forth that the national chamber has endorsed recommendations for the creation of free ports, believing they will aid in the development of export trade and help build up the merchant marine.

LOWER WHEAT PRICES FAIL TO CHECK SALES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

All the United States grain exchanges and Winnipeg, also the live stock market, the stock market and the banks are closed today, Labor day.

Wheat prices have declined to a level where the farmers in the northwest and southwest are getting less than $1.00. Durum wheat, which is nearly 50 per cent of the total crop in the northwestern states, is said to be selling at 50c in some sections.

Prices are so low that those who have been extremely bearish are disposed to go slow on the selling side.

More Spring Wheat Moving.

A decreasing movement in winter wheat in states of the middle west and southwest was more than offset by increase in the northwest, but the primary movement is materially under last year's. Spring wheat estimates in the American and Canadian northwest are being revised upward and there will be a movement marketward from those sections that will be only restricted by the ability of the railroads to furnish cars.

A car shortage exists in all sections, but it is no worse than usual at this season, there being an average movement of grain on. This is shown by the aggregate of 8,466,000 bu at Chicago last week, a decrease of 1,068,000 bu from last year, and of only 120,000 bu as compared with the five year average. Primary receipts of 28,783,000 bu increased 000,000 bu for the week, but decreased 1,000,000 bu from last year, and were only 27,000 bu below the average.

A number of close market students believe that all bearish conditions have been discounted. Others say that wheat is within 5c of the bottom, while the third set, who are bearish, expect a greater decline with no material rally.

Nearly 900,000,000 Bu Wheat.

Based on a carryover of 79,000,000 bu in all positions in the United States on July 1, with a crop of 820,000,000 bu this season, there is a total supply of approximately 900,000,000 bu, which is sufficient for an exportable surplus of 275,000,000 bu. Based on a Canadian crop of 400,000,000 bu and allowing 100,000,000 bu for consumption and seed, Canada should have 300,000,000 bu, making a surplus of 575,000,000 bu, or within 100,000,000 bu of Europe's import requirements. It is not probable that the United States will export more than 225,000,000 bu, if it can do that much, and export buying will have to improve materially to enable a movement of that size. Europe needs about 50,000,000 bu per month from exporting countries and will have no trouble in getting it.

Corn Estimates Reduced.

Drought and extreme heat has damaged the corn crop severely in southern and western Nebraska, northern and central Kansas, western Oklahoma, Texas, southern Minnesota and South Dakota, southern Illinois, part of Missouri, and a considerable section of Ohio and Indiana. Private estimates are for 2,795,000,000 to 2,860,000,000 bu, compared with 3,017,000,000 bu last week and 3,081,000,000 bu harvested last year. The average loss in the prospective crop for the month of August was 187,000,000 bu. Iowa, eastern Nebraska, northern Illinois, and a good part of Missouri have a good crop promise. The crop is so spotted that husking returns alone will tell of the real yield. Crop damage has brought more buying from the outside and the trade is moderately bullish.

September corn closed on Saturday at 59⅝c, a loss of ⅝c for the week. December, 55⅝@55¾c, up ¼c, and May, 59⅛@59¼c, up ⅝c. Prices follow:

Lard Prices Decline.

With a liberal distributive trade among domestic consumers, lard stocks declined 17,100,000 lbs last month, or about half of the reduction last year. Chicago has 46,626,000 lbs of lard, against 71,528,000 lbs last year, and holds the bulk of the supplies at leading packing points.

Prices closed around the bottom of the week, with losses of 25@30c on the near deliveries, while January gained 17½c. Receipts of hogs are liberal, and are to continue, so there is nothing to get very bullish about. Short ribs closed at the bottom, with gains of 7½@25c for the week. Prices for the week follow:

Holds World Wheat Output Controls Prices in America

"World production of wheat is the dominating influence on the price of wheat in the United States," in the opinion of Mark W. Pickell, agricultural statistician for the Farmers' National Grain Dealers' association at Chicago, who has just completed a three months' special study of the factors influencing the price of wheat.

"United States production of wheat is of secondary influence in controlling American prices, and general business conditions and grain movement are third in importance," Mr. Pickell says.

Philipsborn's, Inc.

Philipsborn's, Inc., is an old established Chicago mail order clothing house. It is issuing $2,500,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. This is preceded by $655,000 mortgage loan bonds and followed by 250,000 shares (300,000 authorized) of common stock of $5 par value. The net profits before federal taxes, but after deduction for taxes at the 1922 rate, for the last three calendar years averaged $1,053,666, or over six times annual dividend requirements on this preferred issue. For 1920 and 1921 such profits averaged 6.4 times such dividend requirements. The company's balance sheet as of June 24, 1922, giving effect to this financing, shows a net worth of $4,156,000, equal to $166 per share on this preferred stock. This stock is redeemable as a whole on or after Aug. 15, 1927. This preferred is convertible into common stock at the rate of one share for two of common before Aug. 15, 1927. This is a high grade stock.

Brief Answers.

O. B.—The Chicago and West Towns Railway company ten year 7 per cent first mortgage bonds have been reviewed. Send stamped, addressed envelope if you wish the clipping.

Bonds Called This Month Total $115,275,000

Bonds called for payment in September in advance of maturity aggregate $115,275,000, as compared with $96,725,000 in August and $670,000 in September, 1921. An unusually large number for this time of the year, amounting to $113,650,000, are to be paid off in entirety and in a number of cases replaced by issues bearing a smaller coupon rate.

The three largest issues to be paid off, each for $25,000,000, are the Consolidated Gas of New York convertible 7s, Humble Oil Refining company 7s, and the New York Central ten year 7s. Practically all the Consolidated Gas bonds were converted into stock at par. The New York Central issue was financed through the recent sale of a refunding 5 per cent issue, and the Humble Oil issue was taken care of by the sale of ten year 5½ per cent debenture bonds.
